Vote in Eastern States for Non-administration Candidates Fall Below Mark

HELPS HOOVER DRIVE

Think Commerce Secretary Might Make Excellent Showing in Indiana in May

Washington—Coolidge policies and Coolidge Republicanism dominate the Republican party in the big eastern states. This is the outstanding significance of the Tuesday primaries in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. The voters' cast for candidates who have not been aligned with the administration were much smaller than anticipated.

The net effect is to place Herbert Hoover ahead of all other men mentioned for the nomination, with exception, of course, of President Coolidge. The Hoover vote came from the Coolidge camp and if there is the slightest indication that Mr. Hoover can not win a majority of the delegates, it is beginning to be a foregone conclusion that the Hoover strength plus the "last ditch" Coolidge votes will constitute more than a majority of the Republican national convention.

THE BIG QUESTION

Can Secretary Hoover make the grade? His campaign managers will derive considerable stimulus from the clear-cut victory in Ohio and Massachusetts and it will tend to squelch the talk that "Hoover has been stopped." The opposition camp will make much of the fact that the vote in both Massachusetts and Ohio was relatively light and that the death of Senator Willis deprived the secretary of a real opponent in the "Buckeye state," while the "eleventh hour" letter of President Coolidge to Chairman Prescott prevented the secretary from voting in any considerable number to draft the president.

It would not be surprising if Secretary Hoover made an excellent showing in Indiana in the May primary. As indicated before in these dispatches, the solid vote for Hoover in the middle west for Lowden or Daves and the southern delegates will probably line up behind the secretary of commerce.

The big eastern delegations, like Pennsylvania, which is uninstructed, will have an influence on many other states. In fact, the whole situation resolves itself now into a choice between drafting President Coolidge or nominating Secretary Hoover. One or the other of these two men seems certain at this date to be the republican nominee. It is difficult to analyze the situation, however, because many of the Hoover delegates are at heart for Mr. Coolidge for first choice.

POLITICAL HEADS DECIDE

The situation, despite the voting in the primaries, is still in the hands of the political leaders of the various states. These leaders will decide the issue on the circumstances confronting them this week, and not before. The desire for uninstructed delegates, as in Pennsylvania, for instance, can not be interpreted as unfriendly to the candidacy of Secretary Hoover. On the other hand, the assumption that Secretary Mellon, who commands the Pennsylvania organization, is at least premature. There is the friendliest feeling toward the secretary of the treasury and the secretary of commerce, but the Coolidge problem will have to be disposed of first before Pennsylvania will go to Secretary Hoover.

Just at present as a result of the Ohio and Massachusetts primaries, some of the skeptics are saying that it will be necessary to appraise the Hoover strength carefully in the first few ballots before any conclusions can be drawn. In other words there is nothing to choose in the claims of managers about uninstructed delegations. The Lowden strength is by no means inconsiderable and there is a very friendly understanding between the friends of former Governor Lowden and the supporters of Vice President Daves.

Three blocks of votes—one for Hoover, another for the Lowden-Daves combination and a third uninstructed and on the fence still describes the republican situation, with a probability that the first and third blocks can by coalition dominate the whole convention for it is the Coolidge wing of the party that is in control, and dominant.

POLAND PLANS ENTRY IN TRANSOCEANIC AIR FIELD

Warsaw, Poland—(AP)—Poland is preparing to step into the field of trans-Atlantic aviation.

It has just been learned that for more than a year the ministry of war has been going ahead with plans for a flight to New York, probably by way of the Azores, Major Louis Idzikowski and Major Carimir Kubala have been designated as pilots.

FORMER BREWER DIES

Detroit, Mich.—(AP)—John W. Repp, 57, chief clerk in the city clerk's office here nine years, formerly an outfielder for the Milwaukee American Association baseball club, died suddenly Thursday.

LAUNCH FIVE BOATS, WORTH $2,000,000 AT MANITOWOC YARD

Manitowoc, Wis.—(AP)—Five new craft, including what is said to be the largest Diesel-engine tug for use on the Great Lakes, were launched here Thursday. Their total cost was estimated at more than $2,000,000. The craft, which included beside the tug, two new steel dump scows and two re-built dredges, were built for the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Co. Chicago and christened by wives of that firm's officials. They comprised one of the largest single pieces of work done by the local firm. A special train carried about 150 persons here from Chicago for the launching.

FARM RELIEF BILL FACES FIRST TRIAL

Revised to Conform With White House Views in Most Respects

Washington—(AP)—The new McNary-Haugen plan for farm relief, revised in many instances since last year to conform to White house views, but still proposing the equalization fee machinery objected to by President Coolidge, goes on trial for the first time this session Thursday in the house.

The subject was made the order of business late Wednesday when, after an hour's debate, a resolution was adopted unanimously to give it the right of way.

The bill actually up for discussion was the Haugen measure proposing the same general plan for farm relief as the McNary bill recently approved by the senate, but differing to some extent in regard to specific provisions. The house agricultural committee, after considering the McNary bill, voted to approve the Haugen measure as a substitute, but at that time Chairman Haugen explained that the action was taken in the belief that his measure, which was a better perfected piece of legislation, would be the cause of any outstanding objection to the other bill.

Both bills were framed with the view of meeting the objections set by President Coolidge in his veto on the McNary-Haugen bill a year ago and the authors of the two measures claim that with the exception of the equalization fee all features opposed by the president have been eliminated.

TEST GIANT AIRPLANE CARRIER IN SPEED TRIP

San Pedro, Cal.—(AP)—The U. S. S. Lexington, aircraft carrier, longest warship ever laid down in America, started her full power speed runs in the navy's measured course off point Vicente near here Wednesday.

Developing 150,000 horsepower in eight motors which drive the four screws, propellers at 317 revolutions per minute, the massive ship raced through the sea at a speed in excess of 35.5 knots (about 38 1/2 miles) an hour.

Tests of airplane gear, landing equipment and other essentials will be carried out during the next two weeks.

CROWE NAMED DELEGATE TO SCIENTISTS' MEET

Madison—(AP)—Governor Fred R. Zimmerman has appointed three Wisconsin representatives to take part in the discussions of the thirty-second annual American Academy of Political and Social Sciences at Philadelphia May 11 and 12. Professors William L. Crowe, Lawrence College, Appleton and Royal B. Way, Beloit college and the Rev. P. J. Lomasney, Marquette University, Milwaukee, were the ones appointed in response to a request from the officers of the academy.

Senate Favors American Expeditions 'With Arms'

Washington—(AP)—After a hectic ten-day struggle, the senate has beaten a series of attempts to forestall American armed expeditions abroad.

The action, which started a controversy among senators as to whether it constituted an endorsement of the administration's Nicaragua policy, came late Wednesday as the senate passed the $383,000,000 naval appropriation bill and thereby cleared its decks of all departmental supply measures.

Three amendments designed to place limitations around the use of American Marines in Nicaragua were voted down.

One, which the greatest stir was created, was that framed jointly by Senators Norris, of Nebraska, and Blaine, of Wisconsin Republican insurgents, and provided that the marines be withdrawn by next Feb. 1 when their duty of supervising the next presidential elections in that country will have been carried out and the new administration installed.

This amendment was defeated, 52 to 22, seven Democrats joining 15 Republicans in support, and 19 Democrats voting up with 53 Republicans against.

Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee was among those voting in opposition, but he said the result could not be interpreted as one of approval of the administration's policy of intervention and elections supervision.

Borah and several others who opposed the amendment had been antagonistic to President Coolidge's Nicaragua stand, but explained their votes as due to the pledge given by the United States to maintain order and otherwise assist the little republic. They said that the national honor required that this pledge be kept.

The other two amendments, rejected by even more decisive majorities, were proposed by Democrats.

One, by McMillan, of Tennessee, defeated, 53 to 20, would have required the consent of congress for the maintenance of Marines in the Central American country after February, except that troops could be landed temporarily for the protection of lives and property under international law or the Monroe doctrine.

The third amendment, by Heflin, of Alabama, went down, 60 to 15. This would have barred the use of funds provided in the bill "in connection with acts of hostility by the United States Marines in Nicaragua unless and until the president shall obtain from congress the consent to keep them there."

OPERATOR FLAYS MINE UNION SAYS LUST FOR POWER, WEALTH CAUSED BREAKS

Large Amounts Spent to Spread Lies About Poor Conditions of Miners

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The United Mine Workers, the senate coal committee was told Thursday, "through the lust for power and wealth and money has broken its own back."

The statement was made by H. E. Willard of Cleveland, secretary of the United States Coal Co., who declared his concern would never again meet or deal with the union.

Willard charged that "enormous amounts of money" had been expended to spread propaganda about the sufferings of the miner his hardships, his toil underground, his lack of work and opportunity and "in other words that he was the underdog."

"All investigators," he declared, "who with an impartial mind have looked into the matter have found that under the regulations under which men work in the mines as they are now operated, that such is not the case."

"My experience with the United Mine Workers has been that no contract which our company has ever entered into with them was carried out and when insistence would be made that it should be carried out we were bluntly told 'do as we demand or we will shut up your mines.'"

"I proclaim without any equivocation," he continued, "that the United Mine Workers of America, through the lust for power and wealth and money, have themselves broken their own back, and their usefulness so far as the United States is concerned."

Willard said he had always been an employer of union labor and adding that "there can be an organization of great benefit, both of the men themselves and the operators."

He recalled the formation of the union, saying the operators had then agreed to give financial assistance to the organization.

He characterized that act of the operators as "the seed that was planted, which has caused the present calamity, not only to the United Mine Workers but to the whole people," adding:

"I observe, beginning with 1903, the tendency of the officers of the United Mine workers which has been continually increasing ever since in a thirst for power, both political and financial, and an attitude toward operators, consumer and the public generally which would brook no restraint."

HARD PROBLEMS

"The plight of the operator became more difficult year by year," Willard continued, noting that the influx of immigrants prior to the war had been absorbed somewhat by mine employment.

"They were made members of the United Mine Workers," he said, "and were taught and told and made to believe that the only thing they had to fear in the United States of America was the regulations, and authority of the United Mine Workers."

"We have men today living on our properties who really believe that John L. Lewis is a bigger man than the president of the United States; that his authority is more extensive, and that the United Mine workers can and do punish the members of their union more swiftly and more certainly for disobedience of its rules and regulations than does the government or any state where they are employed."

20 DELEGATES UNPLEDGED IN OHIO PRIMARY

Hoover Captures 31, but How Others Will Vote at Kansas City Unknown

Columbus, Ohio—(AP)—Though Herbert Hoover is assured the support of 31 of Ohio's 51 delegates to the national Republican convention, as a result of Tuesday's primary, just where the other 20 were pledged to the late Senator Frank B. Willis, will swing their support is unknown.

Since the death of their leader, which occurred March 30, the Willis state of delegates has advocated a slate of the state's senior delegates. Among the list are vice-presidential Daves, a native Ohioan; Lowden, Curtis, Hughes and Coolidge.

The Democratic Delegation, however, will present a nearly solid front. 47 of the state's 48 being lined up to vote for former senator Alcee Pomeroy on the first ballot at Houston.

The other delegate, an anti-organization member, is committed to Governor Smith of New York.

With Hoover piling up a most convincing lead in the presidential preference vote and obtaining the entire slate of the state's senior delegates at large, it was anticipated the result probably would have an effect on the senatorial race for the unexpired term of the late senator Willis. It was considered probable that Thad H. Brown manager of Hoover's Ohio campaign and delegate to the national convention, might seek the nomination. On the other hand, there was considerable speculation as to the possible candidacy of Carmi A. Thompson, who managed the Willis campaign.

With 5,567 precincts out of 8,751 in the state reporting, Hoover had 214,562 votes in the Republican presidential preference Thursday. Olin J. Ross, A. Columbus attorney had 8,154; Willis, whose name remained on the ballots, 82,453; Daves, 132, and Lowden 2,631. The two latter's names were written in by voters.

ALASKA AGAINST HOOVER

Juneau, Alaska—(AP)—Partial primary election returns from the First, Second and Third districts of Alaska showed two men opposed to Hoover leading the field in the race for the posts of delegate to the Republican national convention.

James Wickersham, opposed to Hoover and to the administration, was ahead with 1,561 votes. W. H. Chase, who is unpledged but understood to be opposed to Hoover, followed with 1,123 votes. William Caswell, favorable to Hoover, had 849, and Gus Celler, Hoover supporter, 587 votes.

The Democratic ticket, nominated in convention last winter, was chosen in spite of opposition, all six delegates having pledged to Governor Smith of New York.

PICK NEW DEPARTMENT FOR RIPPON COLLEGE

Ripon—(AP)—Dr. S. D. Ellis was Wednesday announced by President William Evans as permanent head of department of education at Ripon college, following resignation of Prof. Bernard P. Huebner, who has been on leave of absence at the University of Wisconsin for one year.

Dr. Ellis has held the education chair only temporarily until his predecessor's resignation was announced, but will now remain indefinitely. He received his Ph. D. degree three months ago. Prof. Huebner will continue in research at the state university for one year. President Evans said after which he will go into administrative education.

STATE GOVERNMENT COSTS REACH HIGH PEAK IN 1927

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Most of running the general departments of state government in Wisconsin reached its highest peak for the fiscal year ending June 30 last when it ascended to $10.71 per capita, the Department of Commerce Thursday announced.

The year represented seven months of the Blaine administration and five months of the Zimmerman administration, but the expenditures were made under authorizations of the Blaine administration. The total costs for operation and maintenance of the general departments of Wisconsin state government for the year was $31,070,324. This includes $5,592,872, apportioned to the state for the minor civil divisions of the state, in 1926 the comparative per capita for operation and maintenance of general departments was $9.86, and in 1915, $6.04. The payments for interest on debt in 1927 amounted to $123,459; and outlays for permanent improvements, $13,550,704. The total payments, therefore, for operation and maintenance of general departments, for interest and outlays were $44,850,487. The totals include all payments for the year, whether made from current revenues or from the proceeds of bond issues.

Of the governmental costs reported above, $15,810,474 was for highways, $4,444,044 being for maintenance and $11,366,480 for construction.

The total revenue receipts were $46,428,378, or $16.00 per capita. This was $15,284,550 more than the total payments for permanent improvements, and $1,577,858 more than the total payments including those for permanent improvements. This excess of revenue receipts is reflected in reduction of debt, and in purchase of investments not shown in this summary. Property and special taxes represented 28.9 per cent of the total revenue for 1927, 41.5 per cent for 1926, and 62.5 per cent for 1918. The increase in the amount of property and special taxes collected was 47.8 per cent from 1918 to 1926, and 7.7 per cent from 1926 to 1927. The per capita property and

CRITICIZE FLIGHT TO HELP BENNETT

Official Says There Was Plenty of Serum in Canada

Montreal—(By the Canadian Press)—Severe criticism of the flight to carry serum from New York to Quebec for the treatment of Ployd Bennett has been entirely unavailing. L. A. Tschichow, secretary of the Quebec branch of the Red Cross, said that the flight was entirely unavailing.

In an address Wednesday night the premier asserted that the flight was entirely unnecessary, as there was plenty of serum in Canada. Mr. Tschichow, expanding on this statement, expressed the belief that the flight was a vulgar and spectacular publicity stunt in which unnamed persons had made use of Col. Lindbergh, himself entirely innocent of wrong doing, to further their selfish aims.

"As for Col. Lindbergh," said the provincial secretary, "I am his very great admirer. But why this bluff? And especially this bluff perpetrated by the use of an American, a world figure?"

"I wish to make it quite clear that I am not anti-American, but I cannot stomach this way of taking profit of a tragic situation under the name of charity. Here we have everything that is necessary and we do not need them to come from the United States to bring us serum. We can get along without American doctors."

"The serum, why they did not even try it. It was not the right kind. It was a mixture of serum. Some have gone so far as to send a great hero like Col. Lindbergh on such a futile mission to let him risk his life on a vulgar, if spectacular, publicity stunt."

Two types of serum were carried, but after they were delivered at the Quebec hospital tests showed that Bennett was suffering from a third type of pneumonia for which it was said no serum has been discovered.

WINTER ICE BREAKS ON ST. MARY RIVER

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—(AP)—The ice chain which have bound 22 grain laden steamers to the St. Mary's river throughout the winter have been partially broken.

The tug Favorite late Wednesday reached the Steamer Eads, 12 miles below Sault Ste. Marie, and towed it through the ice to Detour, the southernmost point of the narrow band of water connecting Lakes Huron and Superior. The Favorite approached the steamer from the south.

Before other vessels may move down the river, however, tugs must open a way through the ice to the point where the Eads wintered. Warm weather may open the way before the end of the week.

Ice is still solid above the locks, around Whitefish Bay. Drift ice from Lake Superior has accumulated around Whitefish Point, and a steamship passage is not expected to be effected until next week.

BURY BENNETT NEAR ADMIRAL PEARY'S GRAVE

Many Military Honors Heaped on Flyer Who Died Trying to Help Air Mates

Quebec—(AP)—Ployd Bennett, who piloted the first plane to reach the North pole, will rest near the discoverer of the pole. He is to be buried Friday in Arlington National cemetery outside Washington. His grave will be close to that of Admiral Robert E. Peary.

The body of the man who piloted the biplane, which was shot down by the pole and who died attempting to carry aid to three fellow fliers, leaves Quebec on a special car at 1:30 Thursday afternoon accompanied by his wife and his beloved chief, Commander Byrd.

Upon his arrival at New York the casket will be taken under military and police escort from the grand central to the Pennsylvania station for the trip to Washington which begins three hours later. The burial will be immediately after the arrival in Washington at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Escorted to the train here by a military guard from the Royal Twenty-second regiment the funeral train will be met enroute by a United States naval escort and the burial at Arlington will be with full military honors.

ELUGED BY PLANE

A sign of stone there will not be the only material remembrance of the man who blazed the air trail over the Arctic region. Commander Byrd announced that the airplane he would use in his attempted flight over the pole could be named "the Ployd Bennett."

From President Coolidge and Secretary Wilbur, his two highest ranking officers, from the men with whom he flew and worked, from his shipmates of the days when he was an unknown naval mechanic, messages of condolence came to Bennett's widow.

Commander Byrd notified Bennett's 80-year-old mother at Lake George, N. Y., of her son's death and she plans to meet the funeral party in New York for the trip to Washington.

LININ DIDN'T KNOW

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who risked his life to carry serum from New York to Quebec, returned to New York by plane Wednesday. Lindbergh's plane swooped low over the hospital where Bennett's body lay, the thumper of its motor plainly audible in the death chamber. Not until he reached New York did Lindbergh learn Bennett was dead.

Condolences were received by Mrs. Bennett from the German ambassador Von Prittwitz at Washington and from T. A. Smiddy, Irish Free State minister at Washington. Bennett was en route to the Greenwald crew of the Bremen at Greenly Island when

STEWART TO OIL JURY

Washington—(AP)—Testimony given by Robert W. Stewart before the senate Robert Dome committee was completed Thursday by the senate to the district attorney of the District of Columbia for study to determine whether perjury charges shall be brought against him.

At the same time the senate voted to refer under Chief Justice Stewart's rested on Feb. 3 for his refusal to answer questions before the committee but it put the district attorney on notice that this was not to be construed in any way affecting the contempt indictment brought against the chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. Moreover, the senate declared that it insisted upon the prosecution of Robert W. Stewart under that indictment.

HICKMAN UNTRoubled AS APRIL 27 ARRIVES

San Quentin, Cal.—(AP)—William Edward Hickman, sentenced to death for the murder in Los Angeles of 12-year-old Marion Parker, whom he kidnapped and murdered, Thursday awaited the dawn of Friday with much more comfort than he 44 months ago.

Hickman, sentenced to die April 27, has been held by an indefinite stay pending an appeal.

Lawrence, the state supreme court could not hear arguments in the case by April 27 Hickman's execution was automatically stayed. The postponement is to an indefinite date. Members of the supreme court have said they would do as much as possible to delay the execution as long as possible legally.

ONLY 3 CHANCES IN 10 TO CAPTURE IDEAL WIFE

Chicago—(AP)—Man's chances of finding an ideal wife are only 3 out of 10, according to a study made by the president of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, has computed.

"American wives fall into five classes," said Mrs. Goodman, "and a woman's meeting. She divided them as follows:

1. The ideal wife, 3 per cent; 2. The good wife, 15 per cent; 3. The average wife, 30 per cent; 4. The bad wife, 20 per cent; 5. The worst wife, 22 per cent."

Mrs. Goodman would turn out to be a good housewife, she said, if they were expeditious with the machine.

REPORT AMERICAN HELD PRISONER BY CHINESE

Peking—(AP)—The American legation was investigating a report Thursday that L. C. Osborn, of the U. S. Navy, was held prisoner by Chinese. Osborn, a missionary, had been imprisoned by the Nationalist army in their advance across that province. He was said to have been taken to Kaichow, in southern China.

The consul general at Hankow was instructed to investigate the report and send the name of Osborn if he proved to be a captive.

Mr. Osborn, who is home in Olmstead Falls, Ohio, has been in China since 1916, when he went there with the Hounding independent mission. He has been a missionary of the church of the Nazarene since 1916.

DYNAMITE BLASTS SPOIL REHEARSALS AT MANAWA SCHOOL

Manawa—(AP)—Two mysterious dynamite explosions and the burning of a cross in connection with rehearsals have transformed an ordinary community program and "seemable" near here into an extraordinary occasion with a hint of danger to make it exciting.

Twice, while meetings to plan an entertainment to raise money for a piano in the Little Creek school district near here were in progress, explosions nearby rattled the school house windows. The first time a fiery cross burst into flames.

The "zero" hour comes Tuesday when the program is to be given. The sheriff plans to be on hand to see that the community meeting is not transformed into a mystery thriller. There has been no explanation of the explosions.

SENATE CUTS TAX BILL $90,000,000

Republican Majority Writes New Rate Schedule into Resolution

Washington—(AP)—A $203,000,000 tax reduction bill was agreed to Thursday by the senate finance committee as a substitute for the $250,000,000 measure voted by the house.

The Republican majority on the committee wrote into the bill, the new rate schedules over the program of the Democrats for a $223,000,000 reduction.

The formal report of the bill to the senate was held up until Friday when some administrative provisions will be settled.

ASK PROSECUTOR TO IDENTIFY MRS. HILL

Uttawa, Ill.—(AP)—Argument on the defense's motion to suppress all evidence seized without right of search warrant at the home of Mrs. Ellen A. Hill occupied Thursday's session of the murder trial of young Harry Hill. Hill is accused of shooting the mother-in-law of his father, the late lieutenant of their Senator home.

R. M. Clippel, counsel for the youth, served notice in an argument that the defense could not concede that it was Mrs. Hill's body which had been found.

The case previously had been on for the proof of the identity from the defense. Hill's first trial was carried through to a jury disagreement without the question being raised. On completion of the arguments, court was adjourned until 1:30 this afternoon.

F-13 TO MONTREAL

Uttawa, Field, N. Y.—(AP)—Mechanics were rushing repairs to the Junkers monoplane F-13 Thursday so that it might fly to Montreal Thursday afternoon to bring the Irish-German crew to New York Friday or the next day.

It was felt that as they had to abandon the plane in which they flew across the ocean at Greenly Island they might wish to continue their journey to their original destination in a sister ship of the Bremen rather than in the Ford relief plane in which they left the island.

GERMAN FLYERS LEAVE BREMEN FAST ON ISLE

A b a n d o n Trans-Atlantic Junkers as Soft Ice Makes Takeoff Impossible

Quebec—(By the Canadian Press)—The Ford relief plane bearing the trans-Atlantic fliers took off from Greenly Island at 7:45 Thursday morning for Lake St. Agnes.

The monoplane Bremen, which bore the two Germans and the Irishman from Ireland to the lonely island, was abandoned to await a ship when the straits should be clear of ice.

The announcement of the take-off was flashed by the government wireless, which had been almost the sole link with civilization during the 12 days the plane and its crew had been held at the island.

STAYS TO REFUEL

By their early morning departure from Greenly, the three men who were first to fly across the Atlantic from west to east were expected to reach their original objective at New York by Friday evening. A stop is to be made at Lake St. Agnes to refuel the plane.

The formal welcome of New York has been postponed to Monday and Tuesday in tribute to Bennett.

It was Friday, April 13, that the Bremen made a forced landing when near the limit of its fuel supply, on the rocky islet 400 miles north of its course. The undercarriage was smashed and other damage done in the landing and the island had no facilities for repairs.

The crew was brought out to Murray's Bay a few days later by the plane of C. A. (Pete) Schiller, who blazed the hazardous trail that other relief parties later followed.

A transatlantic Ford plane piloted by Ployd Bennett, which was expected to fly from Detroit to Lake St. Agnes where the necessary parts and fuel for the Bremen were located. There Bennett contracted a severe cold which turned to pneumonia and from which he died Wednesday in a Quebec hospital.

LOCAL BOY ENTERED IN VALLEY CONTEST

Aloysius Gage to Represent
High School at Oratorical
Meet in Green Bay

Aloysius Gage, winner of the William B. Heiss oratorical contest conducted at the high school Thursday
April 19, will deliver his oration "The Eleventh Commandment" at the Fox River valley oratorical contest which will be held at East Green Bay high school at 2 o'clock, Friday afternoon.
Adrian Atchison, who has coached the oratorical contest, will accompany Gage to Green Bay.

Nine schools will compete in the contest Friday. They are E. Green Bay, W. Green Bay, Manitowish, Mailnetto, Oshkosh, Appleton, Oconto, Fond du Lac, and Sheboygan. Medals will be awarded for first, second and third place.

Thursday afternoon at the general assembly of the students of the school
Gage will deliver his oration to the student body as a final delivery before the valley contest.

600 ATTEND NATIONAL SCOUT COUNCIL MEETING

Approximately 600 delegates attended the three day annual meeting of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, held in San Francisco, Cal which ended on April 11. Walter W. Head, Omaha, Neb., president and all officers whose terms expired, were re-elected. The award of the silver buffalo, for distinguished service to boyhood, was made to seven persons including Colonel Charles Linderbergh and The Unknown Soldier.

The officers who were re-named at the annual meeting were President, Calvin Coolidge as honorary president; Walter W. Head, president, and ex-president Taft, Colin H. Livingston, Daniel Carter Beard and William
G. McArdoo were again named honorary vice-presidents.

The Toughest Old Cough Can Now Be Stopped

Obstinate, lingering, coughs—the kind that hang on and hang on and rob a man of his sleep—the kind that makes him peevish and all worn out.
Those are the breed of coughs that prove that common sweet cough syrups are about as useful as a bottle of ginger pop.

The quickest and surest way to get rid of a persistent, contrary, deep cough is to take a teaspoonful of Broncholine Emulsion four times a day.

This REAL cough medicine is made to stop the old timers—the tough ones—the obstinate ones—and it does it without any loss of time.
And remember, there is no chloroform—no sugar—no dope in this grand cough medicine. It is a per-scription for stubborn coughs and that's the kind it speedily conquers.

For ordinary coughs—two doses is usually enough. Frobst Pharmacy 504
West College Ave. will gladly supply you so will dealers everywhere. adv.

OSHKOSH DEMOLAYS
CHALLENGE NEENAH
TO BASEBALL GAMEWinnebago Chapter, in Turn, Wants to Meet Them in Tennis Match

Neenah—Winnebago Chapter, Demolay, following its regular weekly meeting Wednesday evening, engaged in a schaffkopf tournament, and the high four men, Clarence Thalke, Harold Arsenmann, Lyle Timmerman and Anthony Kuehl, will play for first place next Wednesday evening.

The meeting was visited by Phillip Snelling and Homer Ransen of Oshkosh Chapter, who challenged the Winnebago Chapter to an indoor baseball game to be played Saturday morning, May 14, at Appleton, during the Fox River Valley District convention. The challenge was accepted and the local boys in turn challenged the Oshkosh Chapter to a tennis match to be played some Saturday afternoon after the convention.

On May 19, the Initiatory and De-Molay degree teams of Antigo will put on the work at Oshkosh in connection with a national membership drive. Winnebago Chapter will send several candidates to receive both degrees. A banquet will be given to those receiving degrees and to those who brought in the petitions for those receiving the degrees.

The remainder of the pool tournament conducted by the chapter will be played off next week, and the young men securing highest total in the three nights played will receive a loving cup.

The sportsmanship trophy won by Wilbur Klutz at the state tournament held earlier in the month at Wausau, has been placed in the Swenson store window at Menasha for exhibition.

NEENAH BOWLING TEAMS
IN MILWAUKEE TOURNEY

Neenah—Paul Stumway, George Rundo, William Thomas, Peter Weitz, H. Laurson, P. Clausen, J. Schroeder, H. Magnusson, R. Mitchell and H. Thornton, Hardward Products company bowlers, are to be sent to Milwaukee Saturday to roll in the state industrial bowling tournament. The five men will constitute the Deak Bird team and the others the Veneer team. Both of these teams played well in the annual bowling tournament which just closed at the Neenah alleys. They will roll their five men events at 8:30 Saturday evening and their singles and doubles at 12:30 Sunday afternoon.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Neenah—The Philomathean society held a meeting Wednesday evening at Kumbly high school for the purpose of initiating a class of new members. Following the work the evening was spent with a program and games.

Mrs. Albert Kerlich entertained a group of young people Tuesday evening at her home for Miss Esther Hart, who is to be married next month to Edward Essler of Kaukauna. The evening was spent in playing bridge. Prizes were won by Miss Gladys Lindland and Miss Billie Johnson.

Nomination of officers to be elected by the Eagle Ladies' auxiliary will be made Thursday evening at a special meeting to be held at the aerial hall. A lunch will be served after the meeting, followed by a social session.

The dancing party given Wednesday evening by Elvada Temple D. O. K. K. at Knights of Pythias hall, was attended by a large group of people. Large delegations were present from Appleton, Oshkosh and Waupun.

Neenah—Announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Miss Bernice Draeger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Draeger of Appleton, to Willis Hume, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hume of Neenah, which will take place on the evening of June 16 at the Draeger home at Appleton.

Miss Rose Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Christensen, and Albert Sager, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sager of Kaukauna, were married at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Norwegian Lutheran church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Marland in the presence of a group of relatives. Following the ceremony, a dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Sager were attended by Miss Edna and Edward Sager as bridesmaid and groomsmen, and by Sylvia Christensen and Eunice Kilgus as flower girls. Mr. and Mrs. Sager will reside at Kaukauna.

PLANS UNDERWAY FOR MEMORIAL OBSERVANCE

Neenah—Neenah and Menasha American Legion special committees appointed to arrange for Memorial Day observance, met Wednesday evening at S. A. Cook armory and were instructed by J. Meyer, Neenah commander, to continue with their work and meet again Monday evening to make final reports and complete arrangements. The Neenah post will have charge of the program this year and is arranging the program to be carried out at the cemetery on the afternoon of May 30. Committees have been appointed to take care of music, speaker, parade and grave decorations. It is customary to place each year, a flowering plant on the grave of each soldier of the two cities. Each grave is marked with an American flag.

20 BALL PLAYERS TURN OUT FOR FIRST PRACTICE

Neenah—Twenty ball players were out Wednesday for the first night practice conducted at Recreation park, Menasha, by Manager Arthur Larson of the Neenah-Menasha team of the Fox River Valley league. Practices will be conducted nightly with exception of Saturday and it is the desire of the manager that all wishing to try out for places on the team, be out to these practices. Two teams will be selected from the candidates for a game to be played Sunday afternoon for practice. Manager Larson states that there is much material available as was shown by the large number who appeared the first night to try out. Prospects are bright for a good team to represent the twin cities in the league this year. The season opens May 6 with a game at Appleton and with only a short time to go, hard work will be necessary. To get the selections made and in shape for the opening.

WANT CHANGE MADE IN SOO LINE TRACKS

Neenah—Upon recommendation of W. W. Wade, division superintendent of the Soo line railway, the city clerk was instructed to write the main office requesting the lowering of the Soo line tracks at the Winneconne-ave and other street crossings. The street, highway and bridge, board of public works and street committee chairman met Wednesday afternoon at the Winneconne-ave crossing with Mr. Wade, who claimed that the tracks were too high and would interfere with the paving of the street this summer.

SEEK MEANS TO PAY
COST OF OPERATING
NEENAH PLAYGROUNDSRed Cross and City Not to Pay
All of the Bills During Coming Summer

Neenah—Clubs, societies or private contributions are to be asked to assist in putting the playground activities across this season. The city's budget does not provide for playground activities during the summer, but it is understood that it will not be long before a certain sum will be set aside to promote play.

Last year the Red Cross and city divided the bills, each paying practically $500. The attendance at the playgrounds has grown to such large numbers that it was necessary to hire extra help with the employees doing the refereeing of the evening softball league games.

The same rule will govern the parks this year should the program be carried out. The nightly attendance at the ball games, totalling over 3,000 people. There were two leagues playing, thus occupying the parks every night in the week. This year it is the intention to organize three leagues as there are so many teams making application for admission.

The Red Cross took pride in promoting the play program, giving young and old a chance to get away from the regular daily routine of work for a few hours of healthy exercise. Especially was the life saving and swimming tests largely attended, turning out more than 50 expert swimmers and almost as many life savers. The Red Cross, according to reports, does not feel able to finance this work even though the city does pay part.

MELLON SATISFIED BY REPUBLICAN TAX PLAN

Washington—(AP)—Secretary Mellon said Thursday that adoption by congress of the new Republican tax plan calling for a $210,000,000 reduction would be satisfactory to the treasury. The Democrats on the senate finance committee want a $325,000,000 reduction. Secretary Mellon, with the support of President Coolidge had previously recommended a reduction with in a range of between $190,000,000 and $201,000,000. The $210,000,000 reduction was regarded by treasury officials as the limit that would be sanctioned by the administration.

FIGHTING PROHIBITION

For at least seventy-five years prior to the adoption of the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution there was a constant public agitation concerning it. The adoption of the amendment has not settled the matter. The situation remains unaltered excepting that the ins are out and the outs are now in.

The Association against the Prohibition Amendment has just made public the personnel of its directing board. Apparently it is getting ready for battle. It certainly has fortified itself with respectability. The men who have lent their names to its purpose are among the most prominent in the country. The board now includes the president of one of the largest insurance companies, the president of one of the greatest railroad systems, the president of one of the public universities; and in addition, financiers, journalists, industrialists; all men known too for their own well-regulated lives. Some of these men are recognized as having once been favorable to prohibition. With such a personnel it is quite likely that the fight against the prohibition amendment will be waged both intelligently and intensely.

In a general statement the Association states that it is opposed to prohibition because it is "the intrusion into our constitution of an intimate and unreasonable restraint over our personal habits," but such reason is not meritorious. Laws have a perfect right to intrude themselves into even intimate affairs if they represent the will of the proper majority and be for the good of the land.

The Association then states as its second reason "that federal prohibition does not work. It never did and it never will." Neither is there any merit in such advanced reason. That laws are violated, that sometimes the guilty go free, is hardly a reason for their repeal.

Then the Association gives as its third reason that a blanket prohibition amendment should never have been put in the federal constitution and that each state should be permitted to "install such a method of controlled and restricted distribution" as to that state seems reasonable and in conformity to the wishes of its people. And this reason must be recognized as sound.

If the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution,—and every other amendment proposed to that document,—were weighed by the proper fundamentals, there is little escape from the conclusion that it was a violent departure from the government that was conceived and set in motion in 1789. This becomes the more apparent when the amendment is judged in the reflected light of ten years' experience which has developed apparently a strong support for it in some states and as strong opposition in others. Had the prohibition amendment given to the states the power of regulation of prohibition of alcoholic beverages and fortified the grant of that power with federal protection after its exercise by any of the states, it would have been in keeping not only with the original spirit but with the practical plan of government which was adopted when this government was formed and which with the growth and extent of the government becomes all the more necessary and apparent.

The practical proposition which the country faces in regard to prohibition is to get a decision on the matter. Before the adoption of the prohibition amendment and while its sponsors were urging and pushing it at every opportunity its principal opponents, the so-called liquor interests, were using every device and pretext to prevent it from coming to a hearing and determination. They employed extreme methods, without conscience or fairness. The very methods employed raised a prejudice against them of no mean proportions, a feeling that was probably a material element in eventually defeating them. Much the same situation is now presented with the tables reversed, the Anti-Saloon League now occupying the position formerly occupied by the liquor interests, and in some states, at least, employing methods and pursuing tactics so unfair and unreasonable as to eventually create a fixed prejudice against it, destroying its usefulness and defeating even the meritorious positions that it may take.

The public is not blind to these methods any more than it was unconscious of the same sort of methods once used by the liquor interests.

The Association against the Prohibition Amendment, judging it from the personnel of its directors, is probably actuated by what it conceives to be for the best interests of the country. It can advance but little, however, without a definite program. It can advance as little with a mere program of repealing the present prohibition provision. The liquor traffic cannot be left up in the air. It is quite likely that it will seek the repeal of the present provision by supplanting it with another. It certainly has too much intelligence to expect any relief by a mere amendment of the Volstead act. That sort of a gimcrack is for a politician like Blaine. The Association against the Prohibition Amendment will not seek to muddle or confuse the issue in the minds of the people. It is not in politics.

A NEW THOUGHT ON CLEANLINESS

Modern science has knocked down many an old adage; but the saying, "cleanliness is next to Godliness," gets added confirmation every day.

Dr. J. L. Rice, health commissioner of New Haven, Conn., has written an article for the Cleanliness Journal in which he points out that plain, ordinary cleanliness is more effective in dealing with contagious diseases than all the fumigation in the world. Fumigation is still used, he says, not because health officers think it necessary, but because the public insists on it.

It is better, in his belief, to depend simply on thorough cleanliness. The old saying is a good one. The average disease germ may dislike formaldehyde, but he detests soap and water and fresh air and sunlight, too.

EGYPT INSISTS

Egypt, according to Mustapha Elnahas Pasha, premier, "demands what is hers by right—independence." Egypt is preparing to "insist" that England remove her troops and give up control of the country.

It is permissible, in this world, to demand almost anything. There is often a wide gap between what you demand and what you get, however, and one imagines it will be that way in Egypt's case.

The Suez canal is highly important to England's well-being. England cannot afford to risk having any hostile power entrenched nearby. It seems safe to wager that England will continue to keep troops in and near Egypt for many years to come—demands for complete independence to the contrary notwithstanding.

THE IMMORTAL MULE

It is encouraging to read that the United States army, despite a vast increase in the use of motor-propelled vehicles, today has as many mules as ever before.

The mule is a hard individual to oust. Industrious, silent, stubborn and at times vengeful, he defies the combined efforts of Henry Ford and Secretary Davis to kick him out of his job. Since the army's infancy he has been a trooper; to the end of the army's days he will continue in that capacity.

We're glad of it. The army wouldn't be the army without the mule. And besides—if there were no mules, how would the top sergeants cultivate those sizzling vocabularies without which no detachment of rookies can be drilled into shape?

The editor of the Saturday Evening Post chides the newspapers for giving the public what it wants. Of course the 2,000,000 circulation of the Post proves it is something the public does not want.

MORE REST FOR SICK LUNGS

Nearly every one who has studied hygiene or health in school or out of school, especially with reference to tuberculosis, has some conception of the conditions or remedies which are essential for success in the battle with this most prevalent serious disease. What are these essentials? Without attempting to name them in the order of their importance they are freedom from anxiety, sunshine, good medical care, wholesome food served in dainty and appetizing ways, judicious medication to meet individual requirements, rest, fresh air, assurance in the natural tendency toward recovery, cautious exercise in carefully prescribed doses when this becomes advisable.

From the patient's point of view probably the main essential is missing from this list. Climate, however, has no place in the list, for it is certainly not an essential for winning the battle.

This word conveys one meaning to the layman, another to the tuberculosis patient, and still another meaning to the physician. We might fairly say that the term rest conveys even a fourth meaning to the physician who has special knowledge gained from special experience in the treatment of tuberculosis.

Many a sanguine patient with early (incipient) tuberculosis, rashly gambles his prospects on a wild rainbow chase. Some attempt to plan and wage battle without medical advice or guidance, or with the guidance of some plausible "drugless" healer. And some go north, south, east or west to the far off "perfect" climate, with the money saved by "keeping away from doctors."

It is hard, discouragingly and often tragically hard to make some patients understand that rest in bed is essential when they feel perfectly able to be about and perhaps even eager for exercise. Particularly intractable are the half-baked wise ones who derive their superficial knowledge from such sources as "physical culture" publications and "nature cure" books.

In certain cases of tuberculosis mainly or wholly limited to one lung, a method of splinting the sick lung and giving it absolute rest for a few months is used with gratifying results. This is called artificial pneumothorax, that is, injecting air or nitrogen gas into the thorax or pleural cavity to collapse the lung.

Dr. Gerald B. Webb introduced a new method of giving the affected lung rest by posture. The patient lies on the affected side, with a thin pillow under the chest. The posture diminishes the excursions of the chest wall in breathing. (Brief practical suggestions to the patient are given in "Recovery Record" by Drs. Webb and Ryder, published by Paul B. Hoeber, Inc., N. Y.)

Recently Dr. W. A. Gekker and Dr. B. J. Weigel have reported very favorably on the results from following Webb's method. They say, "We believe that in intensive postural rest as we use it we have a method of treatment of pulmonary phthisis that deserves to rank with artificial pneumothorax in value and effectiveness."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Near Vegetarians

We are vegetarians and have never tasted meat. How many eggs would you advise a week? We take each about one quart of milk daily, besides practicing all vegetables, fruits and cereals. Do you think one gets enough protein on such a diet? (H. J. M.)

Answer—Yes, one gets enough protein on almost any reasonably varied diet. I do not advise limiting the meat diet to eggs. That is just a whim, so far as nutrition is concerned. If one eats eggs one gets everything good and everything bad that one can get from eating meat.

One Born Every Minute

I would like to have your opinion of the (let us call it for publication) We-Cheet-Ya nose remodeler. I am a young man of 18 year of age and am contemplating purchasing one, as my nose is, misshapen. (G. H. N. Y.)

Answer—No appliance or contraption can alter the shape or size of the nose. Only surgery can do that.

Formalin Fixed It

I tried your suggestion of formaline solution for the foul odor of sweating of our daughter's feet, and I am grateful for the result. It controlled the trouble perfectly. (Mrs. E. H. W.)

Answer—Formalin (formaldehyde) is probably the best remedy against foul sweating of the feet, but it is powerful and must be used with caution, lest it prove too irritating. The standard solution comes in a strength of approximately 40 per cent. For the first sponging of the soles in a case in a child, this standard full strength formalin should be mixed with water, say one tablespoonful (chait ounce) of the full strength solution in a half pint of water. Keep it off the fingers and paint or sponge the solution on the soles and between the toes, and allow it to dry on the feet. One such application each day or each alternate day for a week or two, if the skin does not become irritated, will usually control the trouble for a considerable period. It may be used again when needed, but as formalin is poisonous it should not be kept in the house.

Bacteria

Please give me the meaning of the word bacteria. (J. M.)

Answer—It is the plural of bacterium, a microscopic organism more akin to plant than to "bug."

Starch Crust

Is gloss starch and potato flour harmful to health if one craves and eats it every day? (H. M. P.)

Answer—No. It is just so much good carbohydrate, as nourishing as wheat flour, nearly.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, April 30, 1903

Emperor William of Germany had sent a train load of horses and equipment to Rome, so that when calling on the pope, he would not need to use a carriage of King Victor Emmanuel.

The first street musician that had visited the city that spring arrived that day. There were four of them and they played better than the average run of street musicians.

Shoetown was incorporated as a village the previous day, there being only nine dissenting votes.

Chris Roemer spent that day in Milwaukee.

Edna Fisher was to go to Chicago the following night to represent the local high school in the district declamatory contest.

The huge American liner, St. Paul, sank at her dock in New York shortly after noon that day. She was one of the largest steamers in government service.

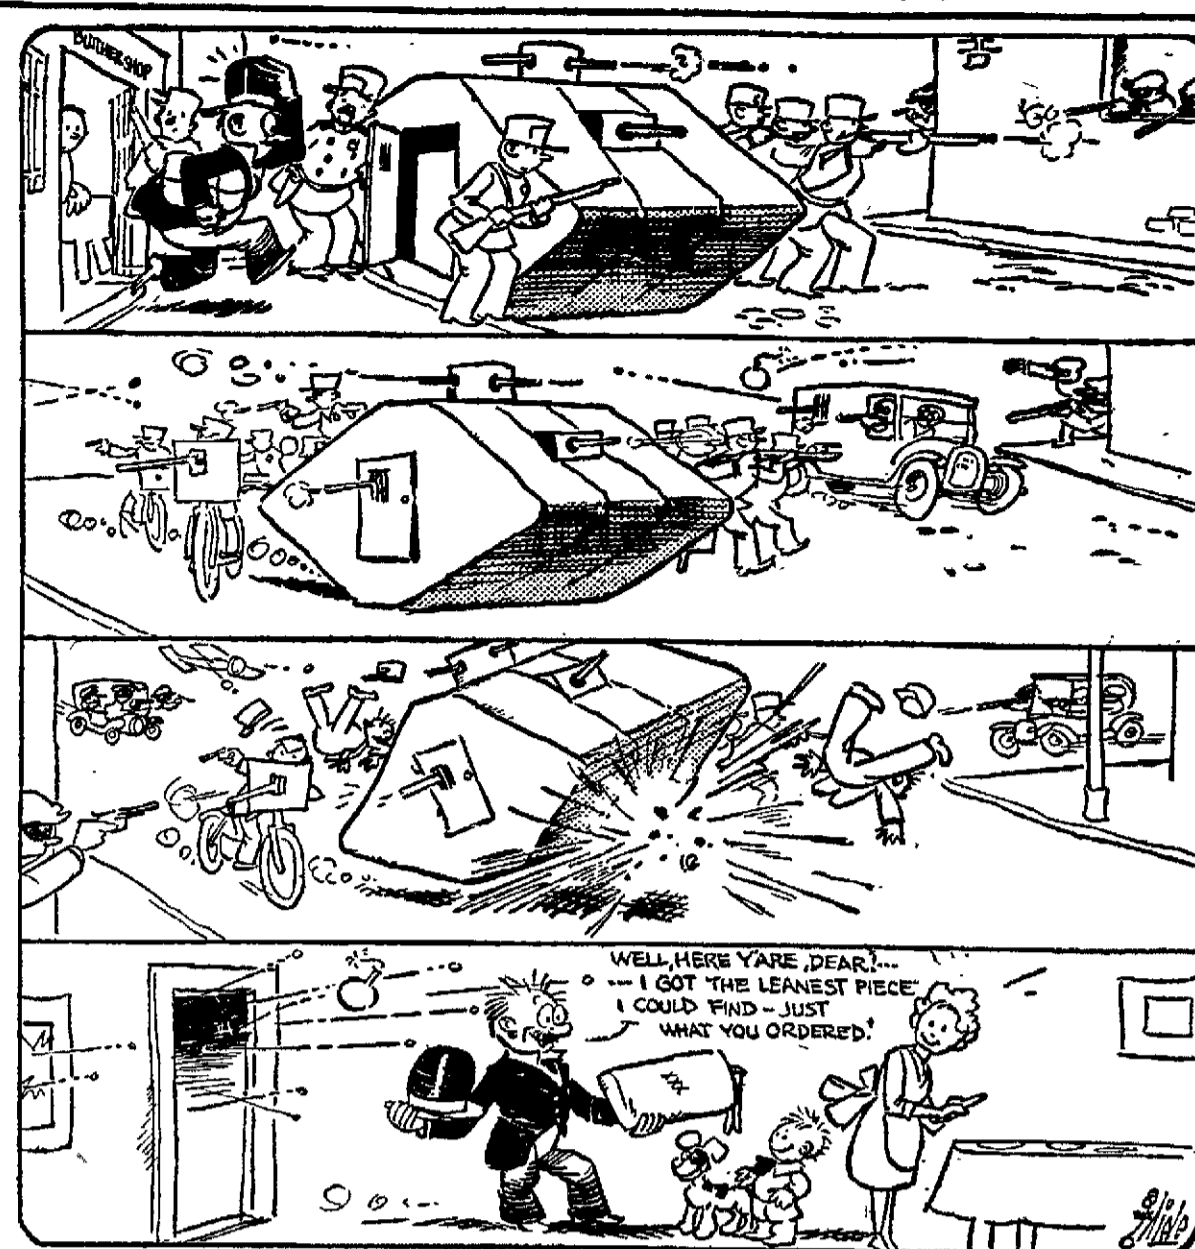

The British had lost nearly 6,000 guns since the beginning of the war.

P. J. Harwood and Dr. H. E. Peabody were the official delegates to the Winnebago convention of Congregational churches held at DePere the previous day.

Two Ontonagon men, George Danielson and John Kennison, had gone to the government's call for skilled men in the various trades and professions.

HASKIN WRITES TODAY

ON—

SAVING MOTHERS AND BABIES

Washington, D. C. — News

dispatches tell of a farmer's wife who was conveyed ten miles over almost impassable roads to the nearest hospital and there delivered of twins through a Caesarian operation, mother and babies all doing well. A Caesarian operation is always local news. When it is the means of bringing news to the world it becomes world news, for it is the first recorded event of that kind.

To those who are interested in the Federal and state activities under the Sheppard-Towner Act, however, it is more than an item which makes the first pages of the newspapers. They see in it a striking illustration of what is done in the way of saving mothers and babies now that the country has been aroused to the importance of doing something in that line. A few years ago, they say, the mothers and the twins doubtless would have been lost. The claim is not made that they were saved through service made possible by the Sheppard-Towner Act, but it is insisted that the educational work which has gone forward since that law was passed has aroused the public to the possibility of saving lives that might otherwise be lost, even if it is necessary to resort to heroic measures as in the case of the mother and twins.

At the annual conference of state directors of maternity and infant welfare recently held under the auspices of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, the agency which administers the Sheppard-Towner Act, it was shown that there has been a marked decrease in rural infant and maternal mortality during the period of the law's operation.

In one State — Utah — the decrease in maternal mortality is approximately 35 per cent and in a number of other States it is more than 10 per cent. Pennsylvania leads the nation in the reduction of rural infant mortality with a percentage of 14.1.

MOST STATES MAKE GOOD SHOWING

The majority of the States which have been in the birth-registration area since 1917 and which have cooperated under the maternity and infant operation show high percentage declines a rural infant and maternal mortality during the period 1917-1921, says the Children's Bureau.

The States which have made the best showing with respect to reduction of maternal mortality are, in addition to Utah, the States of Maryland, Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Virginia. The States ranking immediately behind Pennsylvania in lowered infant mortality are Maryland, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, New Hampshire, Kentucky, and Utah.

In the percentage comparison that has been made, the year 1918 has not been taken into account, for the reason that, due to the influenza epidemic that year, mortality rates were extraordinarily high. Had the figures for that year been included the showing would be much more impressive. The decline in infant mortality in the rural districts, as reported for the States follows: Utah's lead of 35.9 per cent with 26.1 per cent. Other state percentages are: Michigan 24.9, Indiana 23.9, Minnesota 21, Ohio 17.9, Pennsylvania 16.6, and Virginia 10.9.

DAILY HINTS FOR HEALTH

EXHAUST GAS OF AUTOS

IS TINGED WITH POISON

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

There is no longer any doubt that automobile exhaust gas is poisonous.

Like all other poisons the matter of a dosage is important, since small doses of poisons can be handled by the body, whereas large doses may produce serious effect.

The most serious of all of the substances in automobile exhaust gas is the dangerous carbon monoxide, which displaces oxygen in the blood and thereby produces asphyxiation.

Drs. J. J. Bloomfield and H. S. Isbell of the United States Public Health Service have undertaken an investigation of the problem of automobile exhaust gas in streets and in repair shops. The amount of carbon monoxide is dependent on the adjustment of the carburetor.

IN THE CITIES

In the studies made during 1927, 11 of the largest cities of the country were visited and 250 samples of air were obtained. The average of 141 tests made in city streets at peak hours of traffic showed a contamination of 0.8 parts of carbon monoxide per 10,000 parts of air. Only 24 per cent of all of the samples had more than one part of carbon monoxide in 10,000 of air. Samples taken inside of auto-buses yielded even a lower concentration of carbon monoxide gas.

Investigations made by the New York and New Jersey state bridge and tunnel commission indicate that a maximum of four parts of carbon monoxide in 10,000 of air is permissible provided the person is not exposed for a period as long as one hour.

An equation was developed representing the time of exposure in hours multiplied by the concentration in parts of carbon monoxide per 10,000 parts of air. If this equation equals three, there is no perceptible effect; if it equals six, the effect is just perceptible; if equals nine, there will be headache and nausea, and if it equals fifteen, the effect may be exceedingly dangerous.

Thus exposure to four parts carbon monoxide in 10,000 of air for one hour would equal four, whereas exposure of eight parts of carbon monoxide for one hour would equal eight, with beginning symptoms, and exposure for two hours would equal sixteen with danger.

All the evidence seems to indicate that the average person is not in danger from automobile exhaust gas on city streets, where as the traffic officer who is constantly inhaling street air containing exhaust gas for long periods of time may have some serious symptoms.

IN THE GARAGE

The danger in garages is constantly serious. The average carbon monoxide content was found to be 2.1 parts in 10,000. Eighteen per cent of the samples over four parts in 10,000.

Since employees work in these garages as long as four or five hours without leaving the building, the condition demands constant watchfulness.

It is suggested that automobiles be not permitted to run longer than thirty seconds inside the garage, unless the car is in necessary motion and the exhaust is connected to the outside air by a direct outlet.

In three garages plans in recontrolling ventilation must be developed. In small garages with one or two cars the danger is greatest.

See-Sawing On Broadway

By Gilbert Swan

New York — For a year it has been Broadway's favorite romance. The sheer incongruity of it caused the play folk of the big street to stand open-mouthed and unbelieving as they yoked. Because it was going on before their very eyes, they had to believe it.

She was a chorine, yet she taught a Sunday school class. No, it wasn't a press agent story! Any Sunday morning you could have gone to Episcopal Chapel Church and found Frances Milburn with her class. Any other morning, if you made the hour early enough, you could have found this same young lady dancing in a night club cabaret. She had stepped out of a Broadway chorus into the more profitable place. Frances was the living denial of all the stories of wild chorines.

She went to church socials and Sunday school picnics. And on one of these picnics she was introduced to a minister of a Bronx church. Thereafter Broadway began to witness an unusual sight. Each evening, after the theater, the reverend gentleman would be waiting at the stage door. It was reported from the night club that he would appear in the place where she danced at a late hour and wait. This went on month upon month. Broadway kept its eye close to the romance. Could it possibly be? Would a chorine-Sunday school teacher be wed to a clergyman?

The other day the "big street" heard that it was all off. Frances was quoted as saying that, after all, she was but 18, and intended to carve a name for herself. But, it is said, the minister is ready to wait — in fact, will wait in hope that some day he will rob Broadway of one of its pretty maids.

So you see those things do happen.

The echoes of the four-million-share days on Wall Street will never completely die away. That little section, where but a few years ago the speculators bartered themselves against the Indians and thus gave the district its name, is a belt of threadbare nerves, thanks to the one-sided battle of bull and bears which sent General Motors and Radio stocks soaring to the top and precipitated one of history's greatest bull markets.

It is not on the Stock Exchange floor, however, that you will see the greatest collection of haggard faces and marks of wear and tear. To find the great army of the worn and weary you must go to the giant office buildings that hem in the financial section. You must go at night, though, at the present writing, there is no night in Wall Street.

With the frantic market boiling and seething just below, the skyscrapers of lower Broadway are like so many giant Christmas trees by night. Lights blink in the windows until the dawn, while clerks, weary to the point of exhaustion, try to catch up with the flood of work that deluges them. All through the night the signs of feverish activity within the giant buildings that hem in the financial section. You must go at night, though, at the present writing, there is no night in Wall Street.

These have been days that "the street" will never forget.

(Copyright, 1928, NEA Service, Inc.)

insufficient sunlight, and insufficient humidity indoors. In the winter months, all factors which tend to lower the resistance of the child and predispose it to respiratory infections. Respiratory diseases and respiratory complications of contagious diseases are most common where there are overcrowding, bad housing, unsanitary surroundings, and lack of ventilation.

The government entomologist said that the species is the most deadly in Australia and has caused several deaths in recent years.

After a short silence, during which the three of us remained speechless, the same feminine voice said in a loud, distinct tone: "No; nothing is the matter. I'm sorry. Everything is all right. Please go home and don't worry."

The needle had come to the end of the record. There was a slight click and the automatic device shut off the motor. The almost terrifying silence that followed was broken by a sardonic chuckle from Vance.

"Well, old dear," he remarked languidly, as he strolled back into the living-room, "so much for your irrefutable facts!"

There came a loud knocking on the door and the officer on duty outside looked in with a startled face.

"It's all right," Markham informed him in a husky voice. "I'll call you when I want you."

Vance lay down on the davenport and took out another cigarette. Having lit it, he stretched his arms far over his head and extended his legs, like a man in whom a powerful physical tension had suddenly relaxed.

"For my soul, Markham, we've all been babes in the woods," he drawled. "An incontrovertible alibi—my word! If the law says that, as Mr. Bumble said, the law is a ass, a idiot—Oh, Sammy, Sammy, y' wotn't there a alibi?"

"Markham, I blush to admit it, but it's you and I who've been the unutterable asses!"

Markham had been standing by the instrument like a man dazed, his eyes riveted hypnotically on the tell-tale record. Slowly he came into the room and threw himself wearily into a chair.

"Those precious facts of yours?" continued Vance. "Stripped of their carefully disguised appearance, what are they?—Spotswoode, prepared a phonograph record—a simple enough task. Every one makes 'em now-a-days."

"Yes. He told me he had a workshop at his home on Long Island where he tinkered a bit."

"He really didn't need it, y' know. But it facilitated things, no doubt. The voice on the record is merely his own in falsetto—better for the purpose than a woman's for it's stronger and more penetrating."

"As for the label, he simply soaked it off of an ordinary record and pasted it on his own. He brought the lady several new records that night and concealed this one among them."

"And the theater, he ended his gruesome little drama and then carefully set the stage so that the police would think it was a typical burglar's performance. When this had been done, he placed the record on the machine, set it going and calmly walked out. He had placed the prayer rug and bronze bowl on the cabinet of the machine to give the impression that the phonograph was rarely used."

"And the precaution worked, for no one thought of looking into it. Why should they?.... Then he asked Jessup to call a taxicab—everything quite natural, y' see. While he was waiting for the car the needle reached the recorded screams. They were heard plainly: it was night and the sounds carried distinctly. Moreover, being filtered through a wooden door, their phonographic timbre was well disguised. And, if you'll note, the enclosed horn is directed toward the door, not three feet away."

"But the synchronization of his questions and the answers on the record...."

"The simplest part of it. You remember Jessup told me that Spotswoode was standing with one arm on the switchboard when the screams were heard."

"He merely had his eye on his wrist-watch. The moment he heard the cry, he calculated the intermission on the record and put his question to the imaginary lady at just the right moment to receive the record's response."

"It was all carefully figured out beforehand; he no doubt rehearsed it in

Miss Anna Tarr of Lawrence College Library, President of Organization

Miss Anna Tarr of the Lawrence college library was elected president and Miss Zentner of Oshkosh elected secretary at the annual meeting held in Appleton Tuesday. The meeting opened with a luncheon served at the Hotel Northern at 12:30 at which Miss Margaret Woodworth, dean of women at Lawrence college was the speaker. Miss Deborah Martin presided at the meeting which was held at the Lawrence Conservatory of Music at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and Dr. Lewis Baker of Lawrence college gave an address on "Anatole France." The meeting adjourned to the Appleton Free Public library where tea was served.

The cities represented at the meeting were Green Bay, Oshkosh, Kaukaun, Neenah, Menasha, and the Lawrence college and high school libraries.

but for what the insurance companies piously call an act of God.

"No one can foresee accidents, Markham; they wouldn't be accidental if one could. But Spotswoode certainly took every precaution that was humanly possible. It never occurred to him to that you would thwart his every effort to return here and confiscate the record; and he couldn't anticipate my taste in music, nor know that I would seek solace in the tonal art."

"Furthermore, when one calls on a lady, one doesn't expect that another suitor is going to hide himself in the clothes-press. I isn't done y' know. All in all, the poor Johnny was beaten by a run of abominable luck."

"You overlook the mendacity of the crime," Markham reproached him tartly.

"I don't be so confoundedly moral, old thing. Every one's a murderer at heart. The person who has never felt a passionate hankering to kill some one is without emotions. And do you think it's ethics or the ology that stays the average person from homicide? Dear no! It's lack of courage—the fear of being found out, or haunted, or cursed with remorse."

"Observe with what delight, the people on mass—to wit, the state—put men to death, and then gloat over it in the newspapers. Nations declare war against one another on the slightest provocation, so they can, with impunity, vent their lust for slaughter. Spotswoode, I'd say, is merely a rational animal with the courage of his convictions."

Pay As You Go If You Can't Pay Don't Go

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
PRIL, May, and June! Bride months. With all the pomp and glitter of a court presentation these boys and girls are joined together in holy wedlock to live together happily on thirty dollars to week and less.

One responsible for many of these unions, an eminent divine with a sense of humor, has posted a list of rules, a decalogue of married peace, so to speak, for the aid of those young people sensible enough to follow.

Not the least of these rules reads thus: "Thou shalt not try to start a life where thy parents left off. Begin in low gear and shift gears until you get in high. Pay as you go and if you can't pay don't go."

One young woman said to a friend, "It isn't fair! I've been married three years now and so far I haven't had a single thing I'd been led to expect a bride was entitled to."

"What did you expect?" asked the friend. "Well, I never dreamed the man I married couldn't give me a decent house to begin with, and some kind of a car. I'd be satisfied with just a little one. I can't get used to street cars. And it never occurred to me that I couldn't have help. We can't take trips, we can't entertain, we can't do anything."

The friend, an older woman, patted the girl kindly. "I know, dear. It's all wrong. Not wrong that you haven't these things—I remember well that your mother hadn't them, either—but wrong that all you young girls have been brought up to think of marriage as a sort of magic land with Aladdin's lamp in the cupboard."

"The first years of marriage always are an endurance test, because prosperity comes gradually. But it will come, if you hold on and try to keep up not only your own courage but your husband's."

BREAKFAST—Stewed figs with lemon, cereal, cream, crisp bacon, soft cooked eggs, whole wheat and date muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Clear bouillon, jellied shrimp salad, rye bread and butter sandwiches, strawberry fluff, milk, tea.

DINNER—Ham baked in milk, twice baked sweet potatoes, new turnips in cream, cottage cheese, spring onions, rhubarb marmalade pie, milk, coffee.

Jellied shrimp salad is a very pretty dish and worthy of a place in a company menu as well as the family one.

Jellied Shrimp Salad
Two cups canned tomatoes, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 4 whole cloves, 1 bay leaf, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 small onion, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatin, 1 cup cleaned and diced shrimps, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1 green pepper.

Combine tomatoes, water, salt, pepper, cloves, bayleaf, sugar and onion peeled and minced. Put over the fire and simmer, closely covered for 20 minutes. Strain. Soften gelatin in 4 tablespoons cold water for five minutes. Reheat tomato juice to boiling point and pour over softened gelatin. Let stand until cool and beginning to set. Add shrimps, celery and pepper. Parboil pepper for five minutes, plunge into cold water and rub off thin outer skin. Remove seeds and white pith and cut flesh into shreds. Turn mixture into individual molds or one large mold. Let stand on ice until firm. Serve on a bed of lettuce with mayonnaise or a cooked dressing.

ETIQUET HINTS

- 1—If an engagement is announced at a dinner, are both men and women usually included as guests?
- 2—If an engagement luncheon is given, are men over invited?
- 3—Is a regular announcement ever made of the engagement at such affairs?

THE ANSWERS

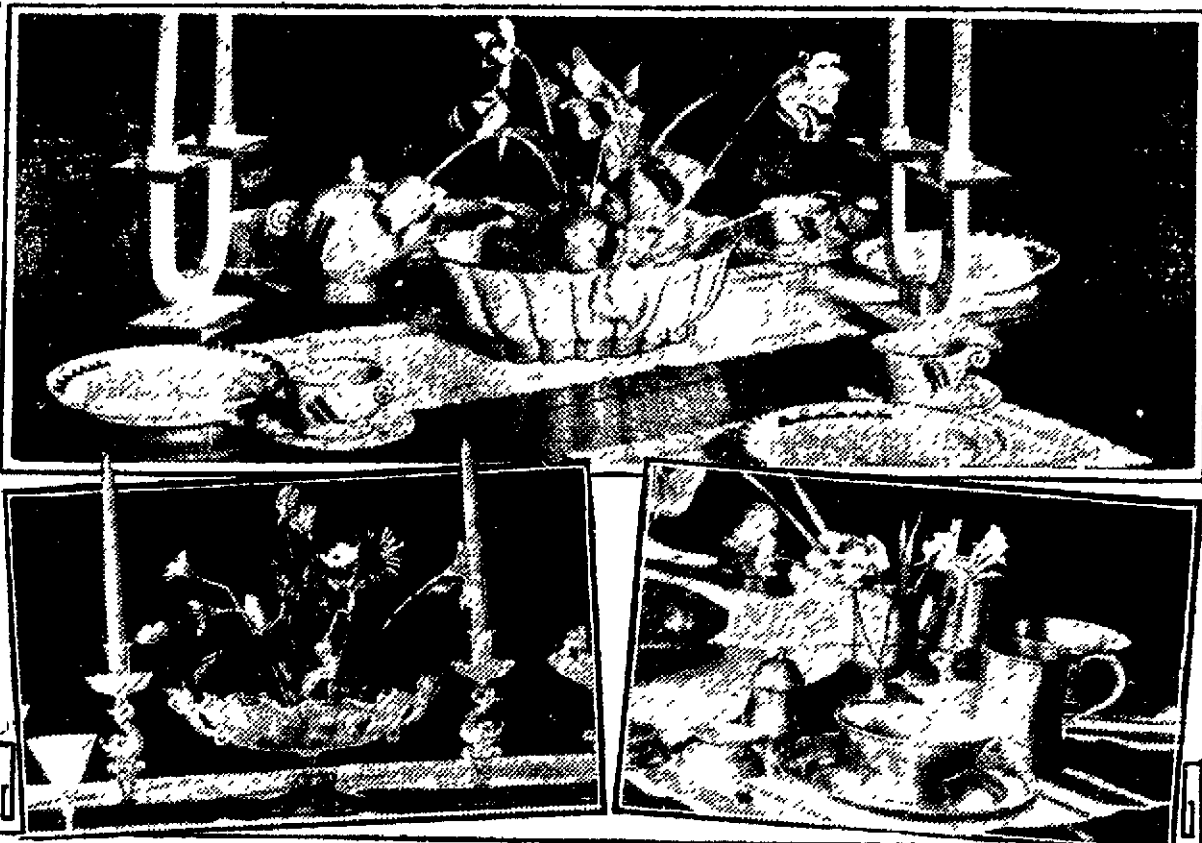

- 1—Yes.
- 2—Just women, and the girl should be sure to include her fiance's sisters and mother.
- 3—Sometimes, but a more subtle way of transmitting the news is better.

Pewter, Modernistic Pottery Crystal, Brighten Spring Tables

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer

New York — "Taste begins in the eye" is the expression a famous cooking school teacher once used to impress upon her pupils the necessity of serving attractive meals.

Nowadays this truth is more or less recognized. Flowers, candles and ornamental centerpiece adorn tables. Much care is given food for its color value and general appeal as well as its caloric content.

Yet at this time of year too much attention cannot be paid to the attractiveness of breakfast, dinner and supper. Spring and early summer inevitably brings jaded appetites to both children and grown-ups. Instead of medicine, why not try stirring slothful appetites by introducing new and stimulating sets of dishes?

CHINA OR POTTERY?

The enterprising house-maker this year will find the task of purchasing new dishes a fascinating one. In the first place she has a quite new decision to make. Shall she, for instance, choose china or pottery? Shall it be colorful glassware? Or, perhaps, shall she splurge and buy a pewter set that is so very, very different from the dishes to which the family is accustomed?

All three kinds of dishes are eminently correct. All three have intriguing designs. And a table set in any of the three is bound to be individual, distinctive.

For the woman choosing pottery there are new and fascinating designs in the French modernistic sets that are the latest word in tableware. Grey is the basic color—a new table note. There are some off-whites too, such as string, parchment and eggshell. But the grey is newest and a touch of platinum coloring for trimming is chic. Original and lively patterns mark these. Scarlet, green, purple or orange, with a line or two of black, play important decorative roles in modern china.

But original as the color and design, it is the shapes of the dishes that intrigue most. Cups are squat, with new, neat and most unobtrusive little solid handles putting out like set-backs from the cup. Saucers are chubby, so are plates. They are apt to be many-sided instead of round. Candlesticks and flower bowls take geometric shapes and often are fluted like a melon for greater variety.

The grey set shown today has scarlet and black modernistic design for decoration and the base of the fluted flower bowl and the drip-catchers on the candlesticks have platinum coloring for another odd touch. Plates and cups are edged similarly.

For the summer luncheon, what could be cooler and more inviting than a table set in crystal? Soft greens, champagne, blue and lavender sets are now available in charming, new designs. Many of these use fish or animals for their decorative motif. One of the most appealing is the "Dolphin" set which has its fluted candlesticks, fruit dishes, flower bowls and octagonal goblets all using the dolphin for the handles.

PEWTER COMES BACK

The third choice is for the more discriminating only the pewter dishes, reminiscent of older days and other times and yet so disarmingly a new thing in table decoration for today.

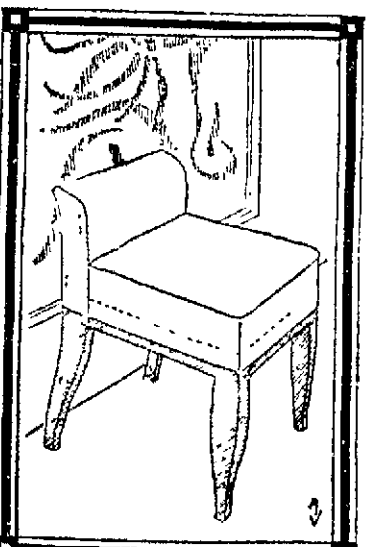

To set a table in pewter one should use a chalice for little individual bouquets, tankards for coffee, navy porringers for soup and old English pewter plates for the main course. There are quaint salts and peppers to be had in English or French pewter. And if one is lucky, she can snatch up early English pewter candlesticks, a set of four to light the festive board.

Of course each kind of ware serves its individual purpose. But the addition of any of the three introduces variety that is the spice faded appetites need.

CAMEL WORTH MORE THAN WIFE

That a camel is worth more than a wife, was the declaration of a native of Egypt who recently offered both to an English gentleman. The first of the wife for the equivalent of $25. "Why do you want to sell her?" he was asked. "She is old and flighty," was the laconic reply. "Then she would fight me," said the gentleman. "No, not an English gentleman," was the answer. The offer being refused the native then offered the camel for $100. Asked to explain the difference in prices, he replied curtly, "Camel better than wife."

HOME HINTS

STURDY DELICACY for the household in the form of a rhinogreen chin upholster in very fine velvet and designed by Ruhlman of Paris.

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Dear Marye.
Surely you must realize that people who have no interest in you are not critical of your appearance or character. It is because Alan wants you to be his ideal, because he loves you and is proud of you that he sometimes finds fault with you.

It is nonsense, Marye, to believe that when people fall in love it is invariably with their ideal. A man who has always been partial to a blond may marry a brunette, or vice versa. But he doesn't forget his ideal and he wants his wife to be like her.

You may think that the attractions that drew a man to you are strong enough to hold him and they are in most cases. But love is not blind—that is, not incurably so—and sooner or later a man or wife will appear in his or her true light even to those who are nearest and dearest.

For this reason a wise woman will not resent her husband's criticisms unless they are unjust and unkind. I know you modern girls say you will not stoop to make special efforts to hold your husbands—that the very expression is a joke among you—but Marye dear, you cannot change the established order of things in one generation. It has always been the woman's part to make the greatest effort to preserve the home. It is her institution, her protection, because she is the child bearer. Ask any woman who has attempted to bring up children alone and provide a home for them by her own labor and she will invariably tell you that it was a hard, hard task.

Marriage affords her a sanctuary for the fulfilling of her destiny such as nothing else would give her. If she does not preserve this shelter even at the cost of a little pride she faces the certainty of having her children grow up in state institutions. I am speaking generally, of course, of the majority—cases where the mother would be

Art And Politics Mix In Life Of Adele Clark

Chicago—(AP)—Art and politics may seem far apart but in the life of Miss Adele Clark of Richmond, Va., they go hand in hand.

Miss Clark is second vice-president of the National League of Women Voters, and when she is not making reports to the state legislature or serving on civic committees, she is to be found in her studio busy with brush and paint.

She will make the legislative report at the opening session of the league's annual convention in Chicago April 23-28, and she will be busy making pencil sketches and notes up to the very minute of her scheduled report. She always carries a small notebook, where notes on league work are interspersed with sketches of league workers, a passing scene from a railroad window, or a street character.

Miss Clark has had a leading part in suffrage and political life in Virginia for 17 years. When the suffrage league was formed in that state, she became its secretary. She was instrumental in calling the gathering in Virginia when the state Women Voters' League was organized, and was its president until 1925.

In recognition of her activity, she was appointed by the governor of Virginia in 1922 as the only woman member of the Virginia state commission on simplification of state and local government.

Miss Clark studied art in Richmond, under William M. Chase, Robert Henri and Kenneth Hayes Miller. She is a director of the Virginia League of Fine Arts. An altar painting by her entitled "The Madonna of the Consolation," which was done for St. Paul's church in Richmond, hung in the last independent artists' exhibit in New York.

title of "Maitre" because there isn't anything else to give them.

In many lines, however, there is a feminine gender for the words lawyer, pilot, aviator, salesman and teacher but there is no word for a female professor, probably because the French never expected woman to reach that exalted stage.

Many French professional women now simply take the masculine title, use an initial for their Christian names and let the customer, patient or client learn, when they see them, that they are women.

It may not seem quite fair but so long as marriage means more to women than it does to men the women will have to do the pleasing.

For my part I have always found it a great pleasure to please my father in the little matters of dress and behavior. You will get more out of life through pleasing one man immensely than by giving a great number a "kick," as Frank would say, by wearing a backless evening gown to a theatre. I dare say Alan was more than justified in objecting to it.

Lovingly,
MOM.

CHARMINGLY YOUTHFUL

A smart appearance is the result of perfect lines and detail, and being appropriately dressed for the occasion. For example, in Style No. 3254 a sheer, woolen in beige coloring with the richness and softness of silk zig-zag stripes, is cleverly manipulated to achieve a very new and flattering effect. It chooses a suede belt, and flat silk crepe for surprise closing vestee. It is definitely chic, and the choice of the smart women for street, sports or travel. The notched collar adds an interesting touch at neck.

It is remarkably easy to make—four seams to join, with fronts underlaid and rolled with collar, vestee stitched in place and sleeves set into armholes. It only requires 3-1 1/2 yards of 40-inch material with 5-3 yards of 12-inch contrasting to make it for the 36-inch size.

It is most effective made of snap pure blue crepe satin with the peck-facings collar vestee, cuffs and pocket lets made of the wrong side of crepe. Printed silk crepe is very sportive with revers facing, collar cuffs and vestee made of plain hainmoring crepe. For vacation, select printed linen, pale yellow silk sadiam, white washable flat silk crepe, or cotton broadcloth with sateen finish in pale blue, beige or orchid shade.

Pattern for this attractive dress can be had in sizes 18, 18 1/2, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred). Our patterns are made by the leading Fashion Designers of New York City and are guaranteed to fit perfectly.

Charter For Auxiliary Of Eagle Lodge

LADIES auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles will be instituted at 7:30 Friday evening at Eagles hall. For the past four years a ladies auxiliary has been recognized by the local lodge but on March 7 the auxiliary petitioned the grand lodge for a national charter and to nationally recognize the Ladies Auxiliary will be instituted Friday night with Mrs. John S. Parry of Kansas City, Mo., in charge of the institution. Mrs. Parry is the wife of the grand secretary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

About 100 members of the auxiliary will join in a body at the institution ceremonies. Members of the organization will be governed by rules and regulations prescribed by the board of grand trustees of the grand lodge and the aim and purpose is to stimulate activities of the local lodge.

The ritual to be used was written by Frank E. Hering, past worthy president of the grand lodge and editor of the Eagle magazine, and it is uniform throughout the jurisdiction of the grand lodge. The local auxiliary will be known as the Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles 574. An auxiliary was organized at Neenah last year and at Oshkosh in January. At the present time there are more than 150 organized auxiliaries in the United States.

MOOSE WOMEN HAVE PARTY ON CLUB BIRTHDAY

The eighth anniversary of the organization of Women of Moose Lodge was observed by a special program and a social Wednesday night at Moose temple. Numbers of the program were dances by Mary Barta, Vivian Schavert and Dorothy Orphan, and two songs sung by Miss Orphan. The drill team gave an exhibition as a part of the program.

It was decided at the business meeting which preceded the program to send the drill team and officers to Kenosha June 23 for the state convention. Twenty-five persons will go to Kenosha. Plans were made for a food sale and rummage sale some time in May. The Neenah members of the Lodge made plans for a guest day card party on May 8.

Twelve guests from Kaukauna attended the meeting and four from Menasha. About 50 persons were present. Mrs. Wilbur Hauert was chairman of arrangements for the program and social hour.

PICK DELEGATES TO CONFERENCE OF "PRO" WOMEN

Mrs. Sylvia Heftl and Miss Mabel Younger were elected delegates, and Miss Mable Sibley and Miss Mabel Kahn, alternates, to the state convention of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs at La Crosse on May 11 and 12.

Wisconsin cities which will send delegates to the convention are Appleton, Baraboo, Chippewa Falls, Green Bay, Eau Claire, Madison, La Crosse, Milwaukee, Racine, Sheboygan and Wausau.

GIVE PRIZES AT BOWLERS' DINNER

Prizes will be awarded to the local bowling league of Knights of Columbus and prizes won at the state tournament also will be distributed at the banquet of Knights of Columbus at 6:15 Thursday evening at Hotel Northern. Dr. W. J. Frawley will preside as toastmaster and Joseph Martin of Green Bay will be the speaker of the evening. Carl S. LOCAL WOMEN TO ATTEND MEET ON SOCIAL WELFARE

It is expected that the Appleton Women's club will be represented at the regional conference on social welfare at Marinette on May 22 to 24. The conference will include the 21 northern Wisconsin counties and upper Michigan peninsula.

The program for each day will consist of round table discussions during the various periods of the morning and afternoon. From 9 to 11 o'clock health will be discussed; 9 to 11 o'clock, recreation; 9 to 11 o'clock, family social work; 11 to 1 o'clock, poor relief; mental hygiene, boys and girls work, city and county planning; and from 3 to 5 o'clock the discussion will be on children code and child welfare.

LODGE NEWS

A dinner dance on May 22 at the Elk club was arranged at the supper meeting of Fourth Degree assembly of Knights of Columbus Wednesday evening at Catholic home. LIONS GIVE RADIO PROGRAM FOR BLIND ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Afflicted from Appleton Will Be Guests at the Home of M. C. Trayer

New London—Probably 100,000 of the nation's blind will be guests of the Lions Saturday evening throughout the United States when the national Lion program is put on the air for their benefit. This was brought out at the Lion Interclub dinner program on Tuesday night at the Knights of Columbus hall at which 160 Lions and their wives were present. New London's club, numbering about seven, will be entertained by a special committee of Lions, headed by Fred Archibald. M. C. Trayer, has offered his home for the evening. Rev. Bell and others will be present, the former welcoming the guests.

About 100 guests from out of town were present at the dinner. They represented clubs from Appleton, Oshkosh, Weyauwega, Green Bay, Clintonville, Waupaca. The dinner was served by the Dorcas society of the Methodist church. Special wall lights combining tall crimson plumes and the insignia of the club, together with a table color scheme of blue and gold, were used. Orchestra music entertained during the dinner and dancing that followed. Earl Baker, of the Lawrence Conservatory of Music, led in singing. Dr. A. C. Borchard, president of the local club, spoke and introduced the Rev. Bell, who was toast master of the evening. He welcomed the guests, touching also upon the national broadcast program for the blind Saturday night, and introduced the main speaker of the evening, Judge A. C. Backus, well known attorney and editor of Milwaukee.

M. L. MUNSEY OF CLINTONVILLE DIES

Had Lived in Waupaca and Outagamie-cos for More Than Half Century

Special to Post-Crescent—Clintonville—In the death of M. L. Munsey, 79, Tuesday afternoon this city lost its "grand old man." Mahlon L. Munsey was the eldest son of Carl and Hannah Munsey and was born near Milwaukee, March 28, 1849. He came with his parents to Ellington township in Outagamie-co where they opened up a clearing in the woods to build a farm home. When he was 12 years old the family took up a 150 acre homestead in Bear Creek township, which was later enlarged and which he helped develop and transform from a forest wilderness into a productive farm.

On April 28, 1876, he was married to Miss Lany Smith of Ellington and they settled on the 240 acre farm. Mr. Munsey started the second cheese factory established in the town of Bear Creek, and was always identified with the progressive movements in the communities in which he lived.

In 1891 he moved to Clintonville to engage in the manufacture of shingles as a member of the firm of Munsey and Gurnsey. When the First National bank was established in this city in 1902, Mr. Munsey was chosen in the first board of directors and has served continuously in that capacity. He also was president of that institution eight years ago.

He served as town treasurer while at Bear Creek, and for years was a member of the Waupaca county supervisor from this city. He was also sheriff of Waupaca-co. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, holding membership in Clintonville lodge No. 107, Free and Accepted Masons, in the Royal Arch Chapter the commandery and Eastern Star at Clintonville, and the Consistory and Shrine at Milwaukee.

Funeral services were held Friday under Masonic auspices from their temple. The body lay in state at the Masonic Temple from 10 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Interment was in Graceland cemetery.

AGENTS FIND BOOZE IN WAUPACA RAIDS

Officers Claim Herman Buckholtz Sold Moon to Civil War Veterans

Special to the Post-Crescent—Waupaca—State prohibition officers, in two raids here Wednesday afternoon, seized two gallons of alleged moon and a quantity of beer.

The liquor was found in a trap in a closet at the home of Herman Buckholtz, living near the Waupaca Veterans home. The agents claim that Buckholtz had been selling liquor to the veterans and that the raid resulted from the complaints.

At the home of Hugh Allen Munst, a quantity of beer was seized. The state men declared that Allen had been selling to young boys and girls and that his place was notorious.

UNIVERSITY JAZZ BAND USES OOD INSTRUMENTS

Urbana, Ill.—(AP)—Odd musical instrument, seldom played, and rarely heard about the University of Illinois band, declared the largest organization of its kind in the world.

One of the most peculiar is the A-flat clarinet, which is exactly six inches in length. The beakphone, sarrusophone, antonophone, rotophone and octophone are other more or less unfamiliar instruments used.

"The instruments have been called 'fooks,'" says Assistant Director Doiak, "but we use them because they give a tonal effect impossible to attain without them."

WEYAUWEGA GIRL IS WINNER IN DISTRICT SPEAKING CONTEST

Miss Lucille Sherburne Wins First Place in Extemporaneous Speaking

Special to Post-Crescent—Weyauwega—A contest was held in the high school auditorium Wednesday evening to select the pupils to go to the district meet at Stevens Point. Winners of the Stevens Point meet will go to the state contest at Madison which will be chosen.

Miss Lucille Sherburne, Fremont, representing the Weyauwega High school, won first place in the extemporaneous speaking contest. Her selection was "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner."

Miss Edna Louison of Waupaca was second, her address being "The Hand of Sacrifice." Dand Allen of Waupaca won third place with Christ of the Andes.

Clarence Zick, Weyauwega, gave a winning fourth place. In the declamatory contest Miss Mary Hayes, Manawa High School, won first place, her subject being "The Call of His People." Miss Emma Jorgensen, Waupaca, won second place, her topic being "Jane Miss Martineau."

The Weyauwega high school won third with "Here Comes the Bride." Miss LaMore Docka, of Amherst won fourth with "Lasca."

The judges were Prof. A. L. Francis, of Lawrence college, Appleton; G. W. Campbell, head of the Oshkosh Teachers' college; and N. L. Burroughs, of the Stevens Point Teachers college. The schools competing in these contests were Amherst, Manawa, Waupaca and Weyauwega.

Mrs. H. Clough of Glendale, Calif., arrived here Sunday, on account of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Crane, were honored at a surprise party Friday evening at their home by a number of their friends.

Among those who were present were: Mrs. Elizabeth La Duda, Mrs. Carl Dietrich, Mrs. D. L. Bellinger, Mrs. George H. Haire, Mrs. Elizabeth Haire, Hulda Peterson, Mrs. William Stillman, Mrs. Edward Manning, Mrs. W. E. Popelars, and the Misses Frieda Klein and Kate McCall.

Mrs. Mary Kosanke has been spending a week in Fond du Lac, visiting at the home of her son Dr. F. Kosanke and family.

H. J. Borom of Chicago, a former resident of Weyauwega for a number of years, is visiting relatives and friends here for a few days.

Mrs. Otto Rachi, who conducts a hotel at Chili has been spending a few days in Weyauwega with her husband, who recently purchased the Roy Reas restaurant.

Mrs. Jacob Konrad of Kaukauna and Mrs. Fred Burke of Marinette were called to Weyauwega last week by the serious illness of their sister, Mrs. Louise Whitney.

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last a family several months, and all can get it. It is good for the baby because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

TURKEY GIVES SANCTION TO SEA-FOAM MONOPOLY

Esaki-Chehr, Turkey—(AP)—The Turkish government's approval of the Esaki-Chehr sea foam corporation, organized by a group of Turkish capitalists, brings to an end a free-for-all mining scramble which has existed since 1850 in this home of the meerschaum pipe.

Before that time the Turks used meerschaum, which they call "petrified sea-foam" and which has been found floating in the Black Sea, only as a substitute for fuller's soap and for the making of necklaces and bracelets.

It was about 1850 that that Turkish ambassador to Vienna showed some of the white, malleable substance to the Austrians, and meerschaum came into demand for the making of pipes.

Esaki-Chehr, the only known source of the substance, sprang into activity.

Since then 5,000 separate mines have been worked with primitive handpicks, baskets and windlasses.

Now that a corporation has been formed, modern mining methods will be instituted and it is believed that production will greatly increase.

RADIO TO CATCH THIEVES

Catching thieves by the aid of radio is possible, according to Monsieur Ashele, a French inventor. He recently demonstrated his invention before members of a technical institute in Paris. It is somewhat similar to the instrument used by a Russian professor in making musical waves with his hands. The device is said to be so sensitive that a thief passing near it would set up sound waves and cause a furious ringing of bells.

Tampico, Mexico, will construct a city hall on the second floor of which will be a theatre and a casino.

Compare the results of the new One-Minute Dip—DIPDUST—with the old-fashioned "two-hour soak" treatment. Above is a photograph taken on the farm of A. Schlechtweg, Freehold, N. J.

While vines were still green, 25 consecutive DIPDUST and corrosive sublimate treated hills were dug. Dipdust hills had 23 sound and only 2 decayed seed pieces. Corrosive sublimate hills had only 4 sound and 21 decayed seed pieces.

DIPDUST is much more effective than the old-fashioned ways of treating seed potatoes. Besides, you can treat your seed potatoes as fast as you can scoop them up. Just dip them in Dipdust solution and out again and your seed is all ready to plant. One man can easily treat from 200 to 400 bushels of potatoes per day.

There is not the slightest danger of injuring the sprouts or even cut seed. DIPDUST controls surface-borne diseases, such as Rhizoctonia, scab and black-leg, and protects cut surfaces from seed rotting organisms in the soil. It insures sturdy profitable plants that will increase your yield from 15 to 25 bushels per acre.

GUARANTEE

Plant a few acres of DIPDUST treated seed in alternate rows with untreated seed. If, at digging time, you are not satisfied, return the empty DIPDUST can to us and we will refund price paid.

One pound treats fifteen bushels of seed potatoes. Treat your Corn and Vegetable Seeds too.

You can now also disinfect your seed corn and vegetable seeds with DIPDUST and increase your yield by preventing many of the diseases which cause poor germination, weak, spindly plants, and poor quality crop. Simply use as a dust treatment. It is easily and quickly applied and costs but a few cents per acre. One pound of DIPDUST will treat six bushels of seed corn, or from six to eight bushels of vegetable seed.

STARTING TODAY 'DIXIE DAYS' AT FISCHERS THEATRE

Jack Taylor has had many years experience as a leading dramatic player and is in charge of the production. Cecil Ferguson who will handle the dramatic juvenile roles in the "Vanity Box Revue," is a rare combination of actor and aviator.

The eight girls comprise the ensemble are all specialty artists and certainly you will be pleased with them as they are above the average chorus.

Also John Ferguson, leading dramatic actor, and Fred Neely, the dancing fool, and Jack Taylor direct from a season of New York hits. Also a fine chorus of dancing darlings.

And on the screen that popular actor Reginald Denney in the picture, "Good Morning Judge."

Remember today and Friday, April 27. Be sure to attend. Matinee performance daily. Come and celebrate our Jubilee. We are offering a $2 show at popular prices.

REGINALD DENNEY NOW AT FISCHERS IN EXCELLENT SCREEN COMEDY

"Good Morning Judge," which opened at Fischers Appleton Theatre. This afternoon is a typical Reginald Denney vehicle made by Universal; it has rapid action, excellent comedy and a pleasing romantic angle.

This time the star appears as a scion of wealth who can't pay his fine when brought before a judge, after participating as an innocent bystander in a fight. Someone has stolen his wallet.

A beautiful mission worker who believes that hardened crooks can be reformed advances the sum. Denny falls in love with her and, in order to become an inmate of her mission, confesses to a long list of crimes. Later, he saves her from some of the criminals whom she thought she had reformed. She finally learns his real identity, but this doesn't halt their romance.

"Good Morning Judge," is the best picture the star has made. William A. Seiter, who has directed the megaphone on most of Denny's hits, directed it.

Mary Nolan plays opposite Denny and Dorothy Gulliver, beautiful heroine of the "Colleagues," has a prominent role. The hundreds of laughs are partly due to Otis Harlan. In the role of an unshaven bum, whose specialty is crushing the gates at prize fights, Harlan demonstrates a superb skill at comedy. Denny, by himself, however, provided enough funny scene for an ordinary picture.

Others of the supporting cast were also outstanding. The company includes William Davidson, William Worthington, Bull Montana, Sailor Sharkey and Charles Coleman.

"HAROLD TEEN" IN MOVIES

"Harold Teen" is coming to the Elite Theatre for 3 days beginning Friday. And for those few who have not heard of Carl Ed's famous comic strip character on which the picture is based, it is explained that Harold is the most famous "drug store cowboy" in history.

His Oxford bags, his autographed slicker, his rebuilt flivver, covered with "wise-cracks" and his weakness for Shebas, are brought to the screen in a way that is a guarantee to convince the most hardened cynic that youth cannot be downed.

Lake is supported in this picture by Mary Brian, Alice White, Jack Duffy, Lucien Littlefield, Jack Egan and many others. "Harold Teen" was directed by Morvyn LeRoy and produced for First National Pictures by Robert Kane.

"CHICAGO" NOTABLE FILM

A notable screen accomplishment from every standpoint, "Chicago," a Dr. Mile Studio production for Pathé, featuring Phyllis Haver and Victor Varconi in the leading parts, will have its premiere showing at the Elite Theatre next Monday. This is a sensational story of a jazz wife who got away with murder. There is an enjoyable admixture of drama and comedy. Robert Edeson, Virginia Bradford, May Marion and Julia Faye are in the cast.

PREPARE CITY CAMPSITE TO RECEIVE TOURISTS

Street department employees are hauling excess dirt from the sewer line through the tourist camp at Albia park and filling in other places on the grounds. The road leading to the grounds and the driveways also are being repaired and graded. The camp site probably will be opened on May 15. A fee will be charged tourists this year. The camp formerly was a tree campsite.

DAWES EARNED TITLE OF "HELL AN' MARIA" WITH WARTIME TALK

"Business of the Army Is to Win the War" Speech Brought Him Fame

EDITOR'S NOTE: This, the 14th in a series of Presidential Campaign Portraits written for the Post-Crescent by Robert Talley, is the third of four articles discussing the career of Vice President Charles G. Dawes. The final article on Dawes will appear tomorrow.

BY ROBERT TALLEY

Washington—"Hell an' Maria!" We weren't trying to keep a set of books. We were trying to win the war! Damn it all, the business of an army is to win the war, not to quibble around with a lot of cheap buying!"

It happened under the shadow of the capitol dome, Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes, recently returned from France, was being questioned by a staid congressional committee that was prying into war expenditures. The election of 1920 was in the immediate offing, and Republican leaders were hoping to expose Democratic fraud and extravagance and thereby get campaign material. And Dawes, now a Republican presidential possibility, had had charge of the buying abroad.

For several hours General Dawes had submitted tamely to questioning, waiting for the appropriate minute to launch his sensational reply. And then he suddenly turned on the committee with a lecture, which, considering the choice of expletives, would arouse the jealousy of an army mule driver.

It worked. Newspapers blazoned the story from coast to coast. Public sentiment took Dawes' side. It broke the heart of the investigators and broke the backbone of the investigation. And so "Hell an' Maria" Dawes won his nickname.

Washington has seldom had such a thrill.

"Hell and Maria!" Dawes yelled, leaping to his feet and pacing the room angrily. "There's no use throwing mud when you weren't there to see conditions. If the call came in for either for the wounded men, by God, we got it!"

A congressman asked Dawes about prices paid for some horses. "Hell, yes, we paid that," Dawes roared. "We would have paid it for sheep if sheep could have drawn artillery."

"Long after the work of this committee is in oblivion the accomplishments of the American army will be remembered. I am like picking fly-specks in the War Department's conduct of the war."

Shouting, pounding on the table and using choice expletives had enabled Dawes many times to over-ride his adversaries at a military or diplomatic conference table in France. He worked the same plan on the congressmen and in addition gained national prominence because the heat of his remarks made a good story for newspapers throughout the United States.

It was Dawes all over—a man who has the natural instincts of a musician and a scholar, but who is significantly shrewd to realize that more can be accomplished by taking the offensive and throwing diplomacy and decorum to the four winds.

Dawes was wearing his mask again—and it worked.

In 1921, Dawes employed much the same tactics of super-salesmanship when he took office as the first director of the budget, that inflexible economy arm of the government.

Dawes arrived in Washington and invaded the Treasury Department in much the same manner as a police officer at a squad. There was no particular need for hurry—the nation had done without such a bureau for nearly 150 years—but Dawes has his own ideas.

An office was found, desks were dragged in hurriedly, temporary electric lights were strung, a force was recruited post-haste and soon typewriters were humming and adding machines clicking.

Again it created an impression that Dawes meant business—and won a first story in the newspapers.

A year in the budget bureau—in which his friends say he saved the government $200,000,000—sufficed and Dawes resigned to return to his bank in Chicago.

Conditions in Europe, economical stagnation since the war, were approaching a crisis. Germany, down and out, was unable to pay the high reparations demanded of her. It was up to the United States to help bring different nations together in solving the problem.

This choice fell on Dawes. With Owen D. Young and a host of lesser experts he sailed for Europe. Out of this venture emerged what is called "the Dawes Plan" of revised reparations and better understanding, all tending toward economic stability.

Owen Young was the real author of this monumental piece of financing, but Dawes' super-salesmanship "sold" it to the nations of Europe.

Refusing to abide by the sure tactics of old-fashioned diplomacy, Dawes followed his own dramatic methods. He had the committee convening early and staying late. He spoke plainly, acted decisively and stayed with the task until the new agreements were made.

Returning to America, Dawes was hailed as a hero. The Republicans, meeting at Cleveland in 1921, nominated him for vice president. He rode into office on the Coolidge landslide.

But Dawes, who had jarred the capital in so many ways, was not quiet for long. He soon jarred it again when, on inauguration day, he took the "show" away from Coolidge and told the Senate of the United States what he thought of it and why.

SENATE EXPECTED TO ABOLISH AUTO TAXES, SENATOR KING SAYS

House of Representatives Killed Fee by Vote of 180 to 120

Washington—A prediction that the three per cent excise tax on automobiles will be completely repealed by the senate next week was made this week by Senator William H. King, a member of the senate finance committee which has just concluded hearings on the tax reduction program. Senator King expressed the opinion that his committee would report the bill to the senate with the automobile tax intact but that when the measure is taken up on the floor of the senate that it will be stricken out. The tax was removed by the house, voting 180 to 120 for its elimination, and over-riding the house ways and means committee which voted to retain it.

"This is a tax that the motorist must pay and now is the final opportunity, at the present session of congress, for the motorist to voice his disapproval of it," J. Borton Weeks, president of the American Motorists' association declares. Opposition to a continuation of the tax was voiced by the association during the hearings before the Senate Finance Committee on the ground that it is a discriminatory tax and should have been removed years ago.

"The motorist is unequivocally opposed to a continuation of the tax. It is purely a sales tax which has already netted the government $1,600,000,000 since its inception. The tax is, in principle, a transportation tax and when other transportation taxes were removed, in fairness to the motorists, this should also have been eliminated. The tax is not needed by the government, at the present time, as a means of raising revenue," President Weeks declares in urging the members of his association to express their sentiments at once to their Senators on the retention of the tax.

"If the administration succeeds in retaining the tax at this time, there is much ground for fear that the tax may be made a permanent feature of the government's revenue program similar to the tax on tobacco, playing cards and other articles classed as luxuries," the association head warns.

SEEK LEGISLATION ON CHEESE SITUATION

Dean Russell Tells Regents That Legislators Must Take Action

Madison—(AP)—Dean H. L. Russell, of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, told the University regents Wednesday that the next session of the legislature must investigate the cheese situation in Wisconsin. He outlined experiments at the college which are expected to provide valuable information for use by the law-makers.

In the Antigo cheese case, the state supreme court held that the Wisconsin law against skim milk in cheese applied only to American cheese, and not to the Swiss varieties. There followed an opinion from the attorney general's office expressing doubt as to the enforceability of the whole milk law.

As a result, Dean Russell said, the state dairy and food commission has stopped prosecutions under that statute. Because there was a lack of definite information on the matter of skim milk use, the dairy department stated the experiments, he said.

Regents to the regents' chambers of Camp Randall stadium, amounting to $4,000, and additions to the dressing rooms costing $6,000 were approved by the regents.

John C. Schmidtman, Manitowoc, chairman of the regents' committee on constructional development, issued a statement criticizing Governor Fred R. Zimmerman for refusing to release $550,000 legislative appropriation for erection of a unit in a new library building.

Mr. Schmidtman said Governor Zimmerman's suggestion that plans be prepared for an addition to the present library could not be carried out. Even if it were physically possible to plan such an addition, Mr. Schmidtman pointed out, another appropriation of $100,000 would be required to roof over the court between the book stack wing on the purpose of the appropriation—that of providing more reading space—would be defeated.

He pointed out that six thousand students in the college of liberal science have available to them only 350 seats in the present library.

NIGHT CLUB REPLACES CHIPPENDALE'S SHOP

London—(AP)—The ghost of Thomas Chippendale's furniture fame, will hear a lot of jazz in the near future if it haunts the former work shop where the old wood worker carved his way to fame.

Chippendale's former work shop is being converted into a night club. Where England's best famous cabinet designer, beginning in 1722, turned out his masterpieces—considered the golden age of English furniture—all the partitions are being torn down and sent scuttling into the garbage heap.

History fairly oozes from every crack in the old world Chippendale work shop at No. 60 St. Martin's Lane, in the heart of London's life district, but this means nothing to the plasterer and the hardwood floor worker abiding overtime to bring the quarter up-to-date.

ENDS HEARING ON COMPENSATION CASES

Kaukauna Man Asks Damages for Injuries Received in Accident

Compensation for injuries to his left arm and the left side of his body and face received when he was crushed between two rollers on a paper machine at the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company on Jan. 5, 1927, is sought by Willard E. Lyman, Kaukauna. Testimony in the claim was taken by A. T. Flint of the Wisconsin Industrial commission in a hearing at the courthouse Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Lyman is asking for compensation under the Workmen's Compensation act. Testimony also was taken Wednesday afternoon in the case of Gordon Malueg against Appleton Wood Products company. Malueg claims compensation for hernia which he says he contracted while working for the Appleton concern. Mr. Flint Wednesday afternoon ended a two day session here.

ZUELKE WOULD BUY BALLARD'S MARBLE SLABS

Madison—(AP)—Marble slabs, which for years have been the source of controversy between the state and the Minneapolis company which furnished material for the state capitol, are about to be sold.

Irving Zuelke, who is to construct a music house in Appleton, has offered C. B. Ballard, superintendent of public property, $450 for them. Mr. Ballard plans to accept the offer.

When the state was building its new capitol, these marble slabs which were to go into the pillars in the rotunda, were rejected by a state architect. For twelve years they lay in the capitol basement, with the company making periodic attempts to collect money from the state for them.

Mr. Ballard, upon assuming his office a little more than a year ago, sent the marble company a bill for $1,000 for twelve years' storage of the slabs. The company declined to pay it, and suit was started in Dane county circuit court to compel payment. On the day the case was to go to trial, the firm's attorneys settled out of court by turning the marble over to the state, and paying $300 for storing the slabs in the building for twelve years.

FIRST BADGER SCHOOL FOREST IS DEDICATED

Crandon—(AP)—Wisconsin's first school forest, thought to be the first of its type in the United States, was dedicated here Thursday.

Boys and girls of the local school signed a covenant pledging that they would pass on to future generations the forest "more beautiful, more productive, and more valuable than when entrusted to them."

Calling the project the framework upon which may be based fundamental education in conservation, John Callahan, state superintendent of public instruction, pointed out that Wisconsin has begun to move in the direction of better and wiser management of her natural resources.

NEW YORK DIAMOND CLUBS TAKE LEAD IN BOTH LEAGUES

Yanks Shake Off Indians By Whipping Senators In Easy Slugfest By 12 To 4

Giants Hold Top Perch When Rain Halts Battle With Boston Braves

Even though some of their stars remain incapacitated from colds, the Yankees once more are in undisputed possession of first place in their league, with the Giants making it unanimous for Father Knickerbocker by clinging to the top perch in the senior circuit.

The Yankees shook off the Cleveland Indians by making merry with Firpo Marberry and Van Alstyne in a slug fest in New York Wednesday, when the Yankees trounced the Senators, 12 to 4.

The Giants remained in the lead by the simple process of sitting tight as rain made a clean sweep of their series in Boston.

The Reds wrested a 17-inning game from the Cardinals, 5 to 4, on a double by Placido. Red Lucas had only one bad inning, and went the route for the Reds, while Frankhouse, Haid and Reiser divided the box work for the Cardinals.

CUBS TAKE TROUNCING
The Corsairs leveled the stronghold of the Cubs under a barrage of 12 hits to win, 10 to 0.

Burleigh Grimes turned in another winning game for his new club, while Charlie Root, Cub ace, was made to feel the heaviest part of the Pirate attack.

In the remaining National League contest, the Robins nosed out the Phillies, 3 to 2, in the ninth after Ruben Ehrhardt and Sweetland had engaged in a pretty pitchers' battle.

The veteran Connie Mack, tossing Robert Moses Grove into action again, slipped away with a 3 to 2 decision over the Red Sox.

The Cleveland Indians are eight points behind the Yankees Thursday in spite of a 7 to 3 success over the Browns Wednesday. The difference lies in Cleveland's having played a greater number of games.

The Detroit Tigers took another step toward the 500 mark when they turned on the Chicago White Sox to win by 3 to 2 Wednesday. George Moriarty got some good pitching from Whitehill, who won despite the let-down in his batting support.

Four changes were made among the leaders in the 1925 annual tournament of the Appleton Bowling association Wednesday evening at the Arcade alleys, the changes being in the doubles and singles. Just one doubles team rolled but that team shot its way into first place in the event with a 1195 score. The pair, A. Casper and T. Lauer, replaced F. Fries and J. Moll who had rolled a 1170 score.

F. Felt and H. Strutz moved down to third, A. Wegesberger and C. Tornow to fourth, G. Otto and R. Krahbe to fifth and G. Ratson and J. Behnke, out of the five leader class. In the singles the line changes were made.

F. Felt with his 640 held the top position, but R. Krahbe rolled into second with a 618, moving F. Fries to a tie for third. L. Jacobs rolled into that third-place tie with a 609, the same as Fries' score and J. Rademacher hit 600 to take the fifth notch. Those dropping from the top five were H. Strutz, T. Lauer and G. Rippe.

Singles:

FORMER APPLINGTON BOY SHINES AS MOUNDSMAN

A former Appleton youngster who lived in the Fourth ward has gained considerable publicity in Seattle, Wash., as a second "Walter Johnson." The youngster is Leslie Wilson, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson, who resided here until about three years ago and has won his cognomen by his pitching ability in a city contest being promoted by a Seattle newspaper.

According to the reports received here, young Wilson was the best pitcher in a group of 145 from his section of the city. Pitching to what is called an automatic umpire, Wilson was credited with six consecutive strikeouts for a new city record. The city contest to determine the best boy pitcher in Seattle will be held in a few days.

EASTERN YOUTHS TAKE HONORS IN AMATEUR MITT MEET

Two New Yorkers Win Titles for Second Straight Year; Milwaukee Lad Loses

Boston—(P)—The eastern boxers carried off most of the honors in the A. A. U. National Amateur championship tournament which ended here Thursday morning after three days of boxing. Seven of the eight national titles were won by boys from Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania and the other championship went to a Californian.

Two New Yorkers, Harry Low and George Hoffman, won national titles for the second consecutive year. Low successfully defended his welterweight crown and Hoffman, who had outgrown his 175-pound title, replaced it with the heavyweight championship.

Three Massachusetts boys were final victors. Johnny Daley of Waltham took the 118-pounds honors. Harry Devine of Worcester, was supreme in the 126-pound division and Ensign Harry H. Henderson of the Chelmsford academy, whose home is in Waltham, was the best middleweight in the tournament, which lasted for more than 31 hours. Steve Holalko of Buffalo, led the 135-pounds division and Leon Lucas of Philadelphia, the only champion to win by a knockout, was the best in the light heavyweight class.

Four years ago the great Fidel LaBarra of California, made the American Olympic boxing team by winning the national flyweight title and Thursday morning Hyman Miller of Los Angeles, stepped into the Olympic berth LaBarra gave up when he entered the professional ring. Miller beat Gene Blanco of Boston for the 112-pounds championship.

MAIER IS K. O'D
All but one of the final bouts were closely contested. Lucas was the exception. He knocked out Dave Maier, Milwaukee light heavyweight, a few seconds after the first bell sounded.

EDDIE ANDERSON MEETS PANAMAN IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee—The next show of the Cream City Athletic Club will be presented at the Milwaukee Auditorium on May 4 and will be topped by two ten round fights. Eddie Anderson of Chicago and Luis Ramos of Panama will meet in one half of the double bill. The other finalists are Pedro Amador, also of Panama and Carlo Garcia of Spain.

Three preliminaries of four rounds are to be arranged by Tom S. Andrews, president and matchmaker of the club. In one of the "appetizers" Louis New, the sensational Polish youth of Milwaukee will appear. New has placed on every program offered in Milwaukee since his professional debut New Year's day. To steal the slogan of a popular cigar, "New satisfies."

Anderson is coming back to Milwaukee where he has long ago he surprised by whipping Dominick Petros decisively in ten rounds. The Wyoming cowboy threw more gloves at Petros than have been tossed in the Auditorium ring for some time and it was not a difficult matter to adjudge him the winner. Anderson's aggressiveness assures a fight every time he starts.

While Panamanian fighters are unknown to the middleweight, their performances on the Pacific coast indicate that Messrs. Anderson and Garcia are in for an evening of strenuous work. Amador and Ramos are stablemates of Santiago Zorilla, also Panamanian, who is starting a campaign for the featherweight championship. Zorilla will appear at the Auditorium late next month against Joey Sangor.

JACK DEMPSEY WINNER IN SUIT WITH KEARNS

New York—(P)—Jack Dempsey had another try at his credit Thursday His one-time manager, Jack Kearns, went down for the count in the federal district court, losing a suit for $70,000.

Judge John C. Knox delivered the final blow to Kearns claims by directing a verdict for Dempsey after four days of interesting testimony to fistie railroads.

The jury decided that Dempsey had entered a valid three-year contract with Kearns in August, 1923, while the former champion was training for his title defense against Luis Firpo, and that this contract was terminated in 1925 by mutual consent in Los Angeles, when the pair of Jacks, after months of bickering and publicity, split their joint property holdings of over $600,000.

The jury was out four hours and 22 minutes of deliberation. Dempsey received an ovation in the courtroom when the verdict was returned. He shook hands with each juror as friends slapped him on the back and cheered. Kearns, once the star of all the glory of the big heavyweight, sat unnoticed in the rear of the room and finally slipped from the building alone.

FORCED TO USE CUE

Most of the star billiard players are good golfers, but when they get in a tight place they have to go back to the cue to get out of it. Edouard Horemans, the champion, is shown above trying a masse shot to get out of a stymie. Jake Schaffer, former champion, is watching him.

Glenna Collett To Battle Hard For British Honors

The following story on Glenna Collett is another of a series dealing with sports personalities and their prospects in forthcoming national or international events.

New York—(P)—Glenna Collett, the girl who hits a golf ball like a man, is on her way to England to try her luck in the British Women's championship. She declared as she sailed that she would not be disappointed if she failed to win but she must have had her fingers crossed when she said it for she takes her golf very seriously.

Her decision to enter the British title event was sudden. Early Saturday she had no thought of venturing so far afield. At nightfall she was packing.

Just before the George Washington sailed Miss Collette was as nearly excited as a person of her calm demeanor could be—but not about golf. She answered questions on the move as she sought trace of a missing suitcase.

"No I have not played the Hunstanton course," she said, as she asked a steward if the missing bag had appeared. "I hear it's very hard." Her information is undoubtedly correct. The amateur record for the course at Norfolk, Eng., is 75 and no professional has done better than 74.

"No I'm not planning to play in the championship with the ev clubs," as she was asked about a complete set of shiny new woods and irons with her baggage. "In the play at Hunstanton from May 14 to 19, if I last that long, I'll stick to the good old standbys."

"I am hopeful of course of giving a good account of myself," she continued, "and I am pleased with my game as it has responded the last few months in the south. I hit a ball fairly well on occasion."

Miss Collett in speaking of her former expeditions in search of a British title said she had not done well. This statement would seem to leave room for argument. In 1925 at Troon she was defeated by Joyce Wethered, the greatest woman golfer any country has produced, four up and three to play. Miss Wethered was the champion at the time and nothing came up after Miss Collett was eliminated from the competition to change her status.

BEAT CHAMPION
Glenna went to Versailles the same year to win the French championship from Mlle. Simone Thion de la Chaume, three up and one to play at 30 holes. Mlle. Thion is now the British women's champion and if the golfing gods are kind, the argument at Versailles may be resumed at Hunstanton three years later.

Miss Collett was in cheerful spirits as she started her third invasion of British golf. Her missing baggage had been found and all her pet clubs were ready to answer her call.

British open," she said, so Walter Hagen, Tommy Armour, Gene Sarazen, Jim Barnes and Bill Mollhorn will have the benefit of her moral support at Sandwich a week before the women have their fling.

Maureen Orent, runner-up in the last national women's championship, cheered the challenger on her way. "You'll win Glenna," she said. "I have never been at my best over there" she said.

She was reminded that this is another year. If she can repeat the 75 and 78 she compiled on her southern golfing tour, she won't be very far away when the returns are all in at Hunstanton.

PICK MORE OFFICIALS FOR LAWRENCE EVENTS

Four more officials for the first annual Lawrence College Interstate Interscholastic track and field contests, in which schools of four states are entered, were announced by word of officials Thursday. The competition will be held on Saturday May 13 with schools of Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa entered.

Beside Ray Dodge, Illinois Athletic club distance star and a member of the 1924 American Olympic team, the referee and starter the other officials are:

H. P. "Cub" Buck, football coach at Miami University, head timer; H. D. "Don" Purdy, former quarterback and sprint star at the University of Michigan, head finish judge; Professor W. E. Rogers, Lawrence college, head field judge; Cleary, announcer.

Buck, a Neenah resident, is a former all-American tackle from the University of Wisconsin, a former star of the famous Green Bay Packers pro team and was once head grid coach at Lawrence. Purdy is a resident of Appleton and has handled several positions at Lawrence meets for several years as has Professor Rogers.

Cincinnati—Billy Angelo, Lilepersville, Pa., knocked out Jack Pinney, Toledo, (8).

SCORE 109-0 WHEN EXHAUSTED SCORER CALLS OFF BATTLE

Atlantic, Ia.—(P)—If Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and their slugging New York Yankee mates ever come to Atlantic, they will have a difficult time showing the natives anything new in baseball. The reason is that nearly everything except an extra inning and errorless game happened when Atlantic beat Griswold, 109 to 0, in a high school game Wednesday. The game stopped at the end of the eighth inning when the score keeper became exhausted.

VALLEY MITT STARS READY FOR TOURNEY

Twelve Best Amateurs of District Carded to Battle at Bay

The twelve "best" amateur mitt artists in the Fox River Valley will contest the finals in the first all Fox River Valley Amateur Boxing Tournament, in Columbus Auditorium, Green Bay, Friday night. Those lads are the boxers who won on the two elimination programs which were staged in February and March. The winners of these final bouts will have a right to claim the amateur championships of the valley in their respective weights as the tournament was given wide publicity and was open to all amateurs in the valley and every aspiring champ had an opportunity to match his skill with the other valley amateurs.

The card for this week promises to draw a capacity crowd. Not only are the winners who are now matched to settle supremacy, substantial favorites in the cities they represent but the matches promise to be the best amateur affairs staged in the valley. Charley Higgins, coach, trainer and second for four world champions, Wilde, Welsh, Wolgast and Ketchel will be the announcer, and "Peewee" Al Fain, Milwaukee and "Pinkie" Al Fain, Milwaukee and "Pinkie" Al Fain, Milwaukee will be the judges. Each of the participants will be given boxing gloves autographed by Gene Tunney and beautiful bronze statuettes of a boxer will be awarded to the winners.

In these final matches Chief Ira Miller, "The Menasha Mauler" has drawn Harold Cotter, Kaukauna's last hope to land a valley champion. Miller has seven army camp battles to his credit, but will likely find his final tournament match with Cotter a real test for the Electric City lad fortified by a small army of Kaukauna boosters.

Chief Ira Miller's big redskin plenty of action. Charley Negros, Pulaski contests the middleweight honors with "Mamie" Murphy Green Bay East high school halfback and Billy Hundertmark "The Battling Belboy" will have to settle the welterweight honors with Tommy Ryan, Oshkosh single representative.

Nuss, popular Bay boxer has drawn Weiler Wolfe, Appleton's "Sheik boxer" and will find the going pretty tough with this terrific puncher. George Everson, Marinette Carian A. C. entrant settles the featherweight leadership with Ly Noel, Green Bay and Bob Ford, Menasha's own Johnny Risko will encounter stiff opposition in Erich Lipschitz, six foot southpaw at 135 pounds.

MAY HAVE FORFEIT
At least one "championship" may go to a boy, simply because there is nobody to dispute his claim, and when one runs out of opponents who care to mix things with him, and has himself never been tested, it would seem that to claim a title was discreet and justifiable.

Lyman Thomas, who divides his time between Bowler and Green Bay, has won a place in the finals matches which will be held in Columbus auditorium Friday night of this week by fighting two exceedingly good rounds. Those two rounds were ample and enough to eliminate the only two flyweights who went inside the ropes with the young Mr. Thomas. A third match fizzled when the proposed opponent withdrew his tournament entry and Thomas finds himself in the finals prepared to do battle for the flyweights title in the valley and none to battle with. Only by a suspension of the tournament rules to enable a youngster from Manitowish to engage Thomas, will a match for the tiny lumberjack be possible. Entries in the tournament closed Feb. 15 before the Manitowish 116 pounder was heard of or from. If the committee decides to overlook the rules and permit competition for Tynmire Thomas he will likely be seen in one of Friday's bouts.

LEATHER INDUSTRY HAS OWN STYLE SHOW

New York—(P)—The day of plain furs, browns and black in shoes is past. Leather producers declare, and all the hues of the rainbow are being imported to the skins of calves, goats and sheep.

Even shoe leather finished in such metals as gold and silver and embossed to represent the lizard, the alligator and the snake will appear at the new style shows in New York April 11 and 12—the exposition of art and style in leather. At it will be displayed the leathers which will go into autumn

INSTALL NEW BEACONS TO GUIDE ALASKAN SHIPPING

Juneau, Alaska—(P)—Plans of the United States to assure safer passage through treacherous Alaska waters call for a new $175,000 lighthouse on Cape Decid. The expenditure has been approved. A concrete reinforced tower of 60 feet square will be built to contain the lights, radio station and living quarters of the keeper.

Wrangell Narrows will be lighted with four concrete beacons 20 feet in diameter and 20 feet high, to replace the ones now in use. Low candle power will prevent the blinding of pilots operating the ships.

MEDICAL PROFESSION AIDS SCIENCE WITH STUDY OF PORPOISES

Many Facts of Practical Interest Sought in This Field of Research

Hatteras, N. C.—(P)—These study of whales and porpoises may aid in the solution of salmon sickness, bane of the deep sea diver, and other human ailments.

Many facts of practical interest to the medical profession are being sought in this field of research, the cetacean being, like man, a mammal and having corresponding organs and tissues. It was with such an object in view that a group of scientists of the department of anatomy of the Johns Hopkins medical school and Drs. Remington Kellogg of the United States Geological Survey, and A. Brazier Howell of the Smithsonian Institution, mammalogist of the national museum, visited Cape Hatteras this month to conduct a series of experiments on porpoises.

The only commercial porpoise fishery in the United States centers at the Cape, and a number of experiments were made on living and freshly killed porpoises. To continue their work, the scientists took back to their laboratories specimens of all of the organs of the porpoise's body, including six brains. Contrary to what might be expected, the porpoise brains described by Dr. Howell, who is corresponding secretary of the American Society of Mammalogists, as "phenomenally developed" and "of an exceedingly high type."

"Many of the problems involved in the study of porpoises," he explained, "are distinctly applicable to human activities. If it could be ascertained how porpoises and whales manage to survive at the depths to which they go, much would probably be learned in regard to salmon sickness. And of practical interest is the question of the manner in which whales dispose of the carbon dioxide given off by the body, through the lungs, during prolonged submergence. Of no less interest are the physical adjustments to the denser aquatic environment which whales (once a land animal) have made involving blood pressure, pressure of spinal fluid, and the mechanism of breathing, as well as the great changes in the muscle system as compared to the typical land mammal."

In addition to the brains and other organs taken away by the scientists, 163 weather skulls were gathered for a study of their variations.

The Johns Hopkins doctors who took part in the investigation were George B. Wislocki, associate professor of anatomy; A. H. Schultz, associate professor of physical anthropology; C. R. Langworthy, associate in anatomy; and Ernst Huber, associate professor of anatomy.

Hungary has only about 3,000 factories but this is 1,000 more than it had in 1918.

Y. M. C. A. GYMNASTS PERFORM AT FOND DU LAC

Seven boys from the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will journey to Fond du Lac Friday night to compete in a gymnastic meet. James Neller and Carol Richmond will meet Fond du Lac boys on the diving rings; Robert Neller, Carol Richmond and Howard Ruth will perform on the parallel bars; Robert Carnes, Clark Carnes and James Neller will do the tumbling; Raymond Quella, Robert Neller and James Neller will straddle the horses and Howard Ruth, James Neller and Robert Neller will perform on the high bars.

At the first meet with the Fond du Lac Y. M. C. A. on April 7, Appleton won by five points.

KOEPEK BROTHERS GET CHIPPEWA-CO CONTRACT

Koepek Brothers Construction Company of Appleton was awarded the contract for building a 20-foot concrete road in Chippewa-co between Bloomer and Chippewa Falls at Eau Claire on Tuesday. The local company submitted a bid of $247,477. The road is to be 9.25 miles long.

USE OLD FORMALITY WHEN EX-KAISER CALLS

Berlin—(P)—German noble families living in Holland still accord the honors due a sovereign to William II when he visits them, according to advices received here. The program is uniformly the following:

His Majesty and "Empress" Hermine arrive at the estate of the friends visited about 11 o'clock in the morning. They are received privately by their hosts and together with them are served light refreshments and Madeira, Malaga or some other sweet wine. There is chatting and "small talk" until about 12:30, when the imperial couple withdraw to don their attire for the formal dinner set for 1 p. m.

To this dinner a number of guests usually from the Dutch nobility, are invited. The ceremony is just as stiff and formal as it used to be in the halcyon days of Potsdam. Seating is strictly according to rank.

By 2:30 the imperial couple withdraw for a nap, in order to be fresh and alert again for 5 o'clock tea. After tea, William and Hermine return to Doorn.

WHISKEY AND SWEETS GO HAND IN HAND IN ITALY

Rome—(P)—With the exception of the few "American" bars in Rome, practically all in large hotels catering to foreigners, whisky and other alcoholic drinks are sold side by side with bonbons, cakes and pastries in the Eternal City.

Unlike Paris, where a bar is a bar even if it is only a zinc counter and the patron carries on a coal and wood business on the side, the bars of Rome are primarily coffee bars and candy stores, with whisky, brandy, beer and liquors also on sale. Seldom is a bar found which devotes itself entirely to alcoholic drinks.

The bar in Rome is on one side of a narrow room, with a candy counter opposite. The uninitiated would discover a regular soda-fountain atmosphere, but stronger drinks stand side by side with orange and fruit juice. The cashier is usually on the candy side of the shop.

Do You Ever Fall For This Discount Bunk?

MR. "SPECIAL DISCOUNT" ROLLS OUT A tire and says "I'll give you this $20 tire for $15. You're a good friend and I'm giving you twenty-five per cent off the regular price."

DO YOU FALL?

LOTS OF FELLOWS DO! IT'S THE OLD game of making the buyer think he's getting a better price than anybody else.

THE FACT THAT THEY MAY BE PAYING Mr. "Special Discount" $15 for a $14 tire never occurs to them! That song about "twenty-five per cent off" sounds so loud they can't think! Somebody gets stung, and it isn't foxy "S. D."

WE DON'T KID OUR CUSTOMERS.

THE PRICE WE NAME ON YOUR TIRE IS the very lowest price at which GOODYEAR quality tires can be sold!

WE COULD CALL A $20 TIRE A $40 TIRE and offer you a 50% discount.

BUT — WE DON'T DO BUSINESS THAT way!

WE SELL ONLY GOODYEAR TIRES. WE think that the only way to keep the biggest tire business in town is to handle the best tires we know about.

AND WHEN WE QUOTE A PRICE—THAT'S the price, and it's honest. It's the price that means you're getting your money's worth. It's the same price everybody pays—whether it's a cash deal, a trade-in, or on monthly account.

COME ON OVER. WE HAVEN'T ANY funny discount stories to tell you, but we can show you excellent merchandise, priced fairly and above-board.

KITTY HAWK N. C. REARS MONUMENT TO AIR PIONEERS

Spot Where Wrights Assembled First Glider to Be Dedicated May 2

Kitty Hawk, N. C. — (AP) — Many brave tales are told of the men who keep lighthouses for ships that pass in the night, but this is the story of a lighthouse keeper who received two "visitors" back in 1900, and witnessed the birth of aviation.

Captain William J. Tate mans the lighthouse at Conkock. On May 2 his dream of many years is coming true. A monument will be unveiled at Captain Bill's former home, marking the spot where the Wright brothers began the assembly of their first experimental glider, which three years later developed into the first motor-driven airplane to make a flight.

"Captain Bill" is the son of a shipwrecked Scotchman, but to be the son of a shipwrecked father is nothing unusual on this frontier of the Atlantic. Here lies a narrow strip of sand dunes, marshes and flats, a barrier reef of protection to the more fertile inland.

In 1900 Kitty Hawk was a fishing settlement of 300 people, isolated from the world. The only connection was a vessel which made a regular weekly trip to Elizabeth City, 50 miles away.

A letter to Captain Tate's wife, then postmistress, lifted Kitty Hawk to a place in history. Wilbur Wright wrote from Dayton, Ohio, that he and his brother were planning scientific flying experiments during their vacation in September, 1900, and wanted to know if Kitty Hawk could meet their requirements.

Kitty Hawk was highly endorsed by the Tates and the Wright brothers arrived. They boarded a white vessel which made a regular weekly trip to Elizabeth City, 50 miles away. A letter to Captain Tate's wife, then postmistress, lifted Kitty Hawk to a place in history. Wilbur Wright wrote from Dayton, Ohio, that he and his brother were planning scientific flying experiments during their vacation in September, 1900, and wanted to know if Kitty Hawk could meet their requirements.

Wilbur Wright wrote from Dayton, Ohio, that he and his brother were planning scientific flying experiments during their vacation in September, 1900, and wanted to know if Kitty Hawk could meet their requirements.

The Wrights often were referred to as crazy and I was soon listed in the same category," Captain Tate relates. "One day, someone asked Wilbur Wright if he actually thought he would plan a machine, which would make a flight. Wright picked up a cigar box cover and nailed it into the air.

"As long as that cover maintains momentum it flies," he explained. "If we give that same momentum to a machine, success will be ours." The 1901 glider was larger and more successful than that of 1900. In 1902, they made a thousand glides from the Kill Devil Hills and finally, on September 17, 1903, they made the first flight with a power driven plane. Orville was the pilot on the first successful flight.

"I didn't see them much during the assembling of the powered machine, but they extended me an invitation to see them make their trial flight," Captain Tate said. "The weather was fierce, but I started down there anyway. I got as far as the postoffice, when one of the men from the life saving station came running, nearly out of breath, yelling:

"They've done it! They've done it! Danced it like ain't few!" "Wilbur made the second flight, Orville the third, and Wilbur the fourth and last. The maximum distance flown was 852 feet, and then there flying became a fact."

6 STUDENTS CHOSEN FOR SPEAKING MEET

Fischer, Extemporaneous Speaking Contest to Be Held May 3

Six Appleton high school students have been chosen for the Fischer Extemporaneous contest, which is to be held at 2:30 Thursday afternoon, May 3, at the high school auditorium. The winner of the contest will receive a medal which is presented by O. H. Fischer of the Fischer Jewelry Company. The contest was formerly called the F. C. Hyde Extemporaneous contest.

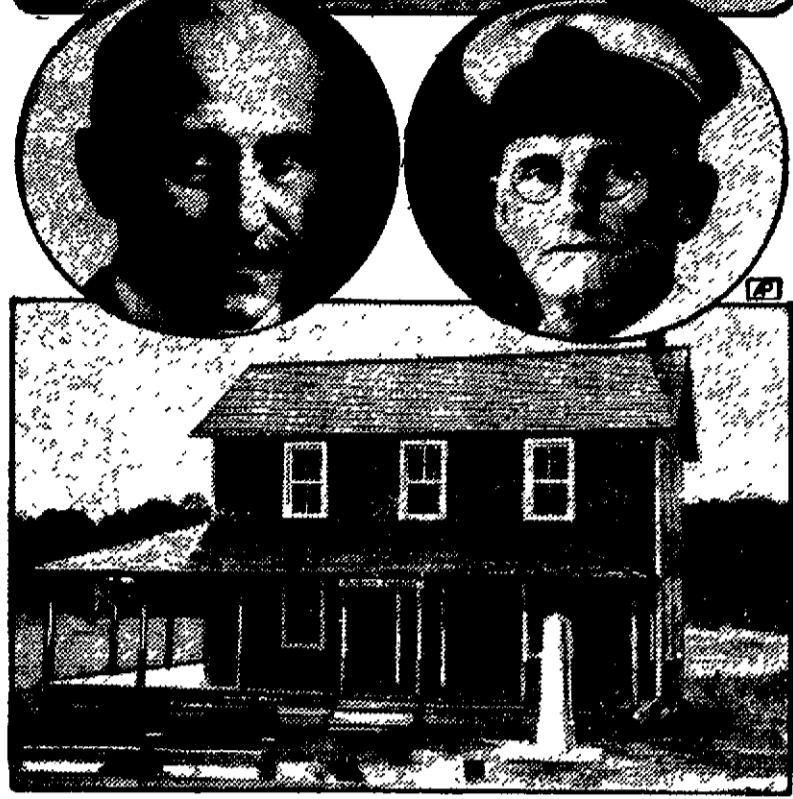

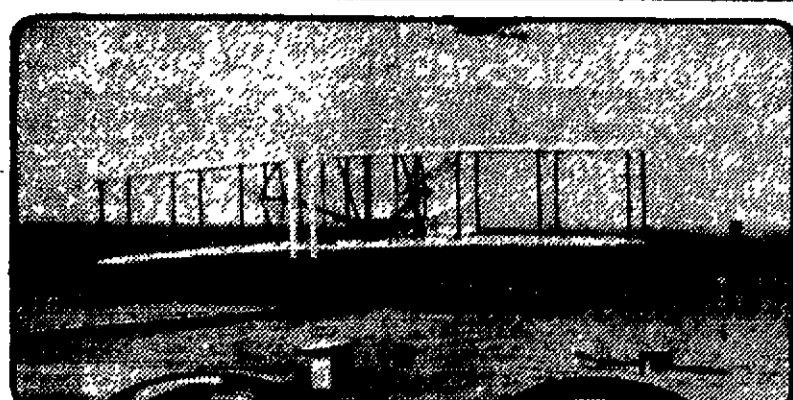

The students who have been selected are Melvin Bartz, Maxine Fraser, Donald MacMahon, Merline Pitt, Arnold Seig and Evelyn Stallman.

The winner of the contest will represent Appleton high school at the Fox river valley extemporaneous contest which will be held at the Appleton high school at 2:30 Friday afternoon, May 11. First, second, and third place awards will be made. The schools to be represented are Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, W. Green Bay, E. Green Bay, Oconto, Manitowish, Oshkosh, Appleton, and Marinette. Miss Ruth McKennon will coach the local contestants.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, set beards has fled. Cheeks are hollow and drawn. Unpleasant pimples. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure. Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to enter through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets will save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous gripping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you. Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c. adv.

REAR MONUMENT TO WRIGHTS

Capt. W. J. Tate (right), lighthouse keeper with whom Orville (left) and Wilbur Wright lived while conducting their first successful flying experiments at Kitty Hawk, N. C., has gotten a simple monument built on the spot in front of his old home (below) where the first Wright glider was assembled. It will be unveiled May 2. Above is a view of the first successful Wright flight near Kitty Hawk, Dec. 17, 1903.

WILL HOLD ADVANCE REGISTRATION DAYS AT APPLETON SCHOOL

Plan to Have All Students Enrolled Before School Ends in June

Sophomore home room teachers met with the principal of Appleton high school at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to discuss registration of sophomores for next year. The advanced registrations for sophomores and juniors will be held on May 2 and 10. Thursday afternoon the junior home room teachers will meet with the principal to discuss junior advance registrations.

On May 2, bulletins containing a complete list of the courses of study for next year will be distributed to the students of the high school. The distribution of the bulletins is a continuation of the guidance program adopted by the high school this year, according to the principal. The high school will endeavor to make advance registrations as complete as possible before the school year of 1928 is finished.

SOCIAL WORKERS TO MEET AT MARINETTE

The commodity called "health protection" which people must purchase as an essential need of community life is not equally utilized by all communities in Wisconsin, according to surveys made. Possible remedies for this state of affairs will be discussed at the Northeastern Wisconsin Conference on Social Welfare, to be held at Marinette May 22, 23, and 24, according to advance program announcement made by the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work. Representatives will go from Outagamie county as well as from 20 other northeastern counties.

At a session concerned with "Public Health Administration for Communities That Cannot Afford a Full-Time Health Organization," the group will hear plans and discuss health problems of small towns and rural areas.

FRENCH NATURALIST HAS MADE STUDY OF INSECTS

Paris.—(P)—"Go to the ant, thou sluggard," is possible for every lazy Parisian now for the ant and every other sort of insect may be seen at work in his natural habitat at the Jardin des Plantes.

A Virarium, where insects, lizards, and small reptiles live in miniature forests, enclosed in glass, has been established. It is the fulfillment of the idea of Jean Henri Fabre, the French naturalist, who always urged that science should have such facilities for studying the insect world in its work and play.

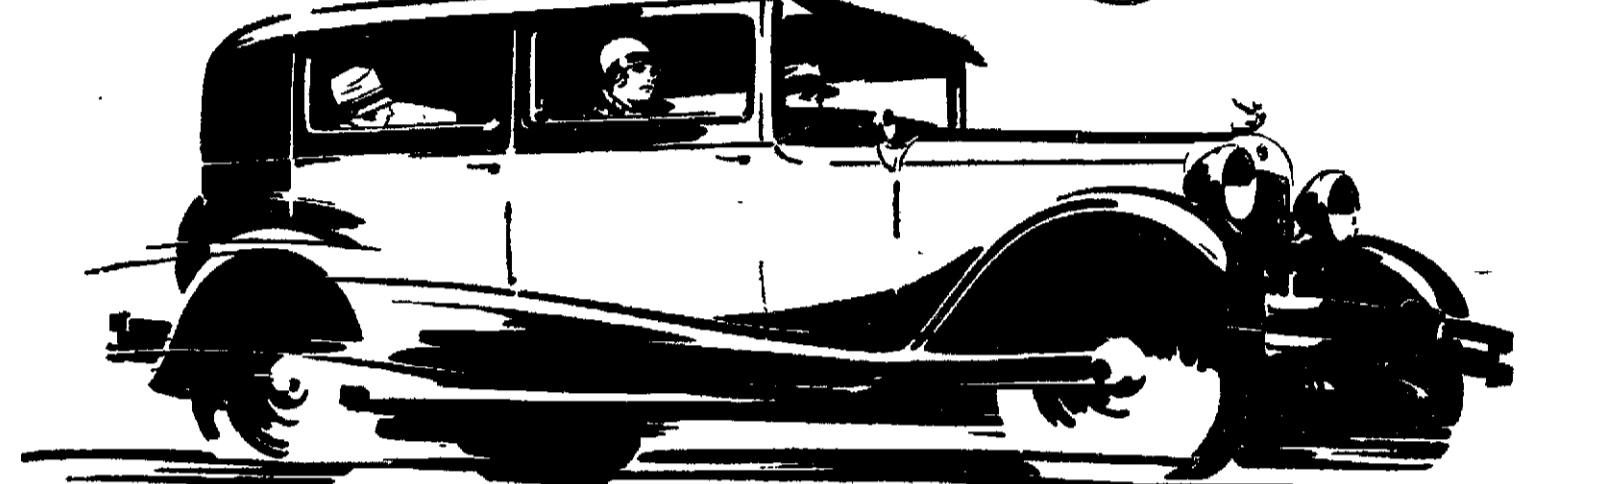

From all the French colonies there are being bright live specimens which most entomologists heretofore have seen only pinned in glass cases. So far as possible each creature is given its native surroundings and a close imitation of the climate in which it thrives.

World's greatest Value and Outselling all sixes

THE world's largest sale of 6-cylinder cars became an Essex achievement solely because of merit.

All 6-cylinder sales records are swept aside in the enthusiastic reception everywhere accorded the New Essex Super-Six. Many communities report 100%, 200%, even 300% greater sales than for the corresponding period of last year, which was the former all-time Essex record.

Greater in power, more versatile in all performance, large, roomier and more beautifully appointed, the New Essex Super-Six gloriously earns its richer reward in even greater popularity than its predecessor.

The exclusive, high-compression Super-Six motor that turns waste heat to power, develops the greatest power per cubic inch of piston displacement of any stock motor we know in the world.

In all ways the New Essex Super-Six is engineered to the lowest operation and maintenance costs. And increasing thousands of owners rolling up thousands of miles of service prove that these qualities which delight you on your first ride are just as lasting as they are brilliant.

FOREIGN DEMAND FOR AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS HELP FARMER

EUROPEANS CHANGE CROPS AND REQUIRE MORE TOBACCO, WOOL

Products That Were Abundant Before World War Are Now in Great Demand

BY BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Washington—A growing market in France for cereals and animal products, as well as an increasing demand for cotton and tobacco, are reported by Louis C. Michael, Department of Agriculture economist who has been making a series of agricultural surveys of foreign countries. This should give a wider market for wheat and, to a less extent, for lamb and pork products from the United States.

Hundreds of thousands of farms and dwellings in France have been equipped since the Armistice, and there is now a higher standard of living in urban and industrial centers than has been ever before enjoyed among the masses of the French people, Mr. Michael says. More wheat and more meat are in demand, as well as better clothing and more luxuries.

This fact, the economist points out, is of cardinal importance to farmers of the United States, as is also the fact that more cereals are being consumed on farms, thus keeping from the market certain supplies of food that now must be imported.

The increased urban demands for food and clothing for which the United States supplies wheat and cotton, are regarded as permanent developments associated with the progress made by industry and the steady growth of the industrial population, which has been at the expense of rural communities, thus rendering farm labor scarce and expensive. Women are replacing men as tillers of the soil. Soil productivity is decreasing.

Before the World War, agriculture was steadily losing its position of predominance in the national economy of France. Field-crop production had been on the decline for more than two decades and land had been slowly going to grass. Livestock numbers had not increased proportionately to the greater available home-grown and imported forage and feed supplies, but the live weights and quantity of wool and the yield of milk had increased. The sale of livestock and animal products formed more than 70 per cent of the farmer's income. France was practically independent of outside sources of meat supply and had become an exporter of dairy products.

This situation, Mr. Michael says, was reached as the result of a series of adjustments to changes that had occurred in world agriculture. The world market had been flooded with American wheat, and French farmers took up animal industry, the world market became flooded with American cotton and Australian wool, and the French farmer abandoned flax, hemp, and wool production and turned his attention to meat. Now the world market is being flooded with frozen meat and the farmers are turning more and more to dairying.

The per capita consumption of meat, butter, milk, and wheat in France is increasing. France can not meet the demand for increased supplies of animal products without abandoning still further the area under broad cereals which under the present system of scattered land holdings can not be produced economically in competition with the broad acres and power farming of the New World. There will be a future growing market for cereals and animal products, of which the United States can supply wheat and lamb and other products. The improved industrial situation and the higher standard of living in the cities have created a growing demand for cotton and tobacco and in supplying these commodities the United States will take the important part, it is pointed out.

WAUPACA-CO POTATO ACREAGE INCREASED

Many Farmers Find Crop Pays and One Man Gets High Price for Seedlings

Royalton—George Butten, whose farm is located in the town of Waupaca, has specialized in raising seed potatoes for which he is now finding a ready market at $2.25 per cwt. The State Experiment farm at Hancock and 4-H boys potato clubs of this county are among his patrons.

Mr. Butten practices a selection of seed potatoes. The recent potato institute held in this city was very successful and awakened a new interest in that crop among the farmers. Some years ago there was in this county an active association of growers of certified potatoes. That has been disbanded for some time but may be re-organized.

Potato picking machines were used successfully the past season by farmers who had as high as 40 acres of spuds. George Barnhart of Lind handled his 9,000 bushel crop with a picker. This machine is solving a labor problem that has hitherto done much to discourage the potato industry. Last fall a large per cent of the crop of this county was trucked direct from the fields to the city markets at Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh and Fond du Lac, thereby saving handling and storage.

Much of the truckage was done by the buyers instead of the farmers. The prospect this year is Waupaca-co is for an increase in the acreage of potatoes and the use of a higher grade of seed.

Prairie Farmers Welcome Advent Of Forest Life

Arboriculturists say tree life in the Great Plains of the southwest is possible. It would be promoted on the general plan of shelter belt planting in the plains of the north. The Colorado farm buildings shown above are protected by windbreaks planted in 1916.

Washington—(P)—With thousands of shelter belts and windbreaks to its credit in the northern Great Plains region, the science of arboriculture purposes now to work its magic in the treeless areas of the southwest.

Fifteen hundred farmers, co-operating with the government's dry-land experiment station at Mandan, N. D., have overcome nature's failure to provide tree life on the plains. Interest has spread to southern Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, all of which would be affected by the Garber bill, passed by the house and sent to the senate, authorizing an appropriation of $35,000 for experimental work in the growing of trees.

Explaining that the absence of trees is an important matter of the farmer of the plains, Robert Wilson, associate arboriculturist at the Mandan station, declares limited rainfall and periods of drought are the chief obstacles to overcome. There are species of trees adapted to almost every region, proved, Wilson says, by the presence of tree life in a limited form along the banks of larger streams in the sunbaked plains. Trees appear on higher although continuous levels, giving rise to the theory that sub-irrigation and protection from prairie fires will provide favorable conditions for tree life in the southwest.

Group Leaders Gather at Denmark and Hear Talk by Miss Stillman

BY W. F. WINSEY
Denmark—Twenty-six group leaders attended the meeting in Home Economics, conducted Tuesday by Miss Gladys Stillman of the home extension service of the College of Agriculture in the auditorium of the Denmark State Bank.

In the forenoon, Miss Stillman presented demonstration lessons in cooking and then assigned each item of a balanced lunch for preparation to a small group of the members of her class. Just before the lunch was ready to serve she discussed setting the table, the arrangement of dishes, the seating of guests and members of the family at the table, and serving a meal. She recommended that one meal hour each week be set aside for family for practice in setting the table, taking proper places and serving meals in accordance with the better rules and that children be given practice in serving meals.

The following is an illustration of "The Well Planned Diet." Breakfast, cereal, dates, or raisins, eggs, scrambled, omitted cooked, or baked, toast, and butter, coffee, milk, or cocoa. Lunch or supper, escalloped spinach and cheese, rice, tomato and clove dish, bran muffins, butter, jelly, fruit salad, wafers, milk, coffee or tea. Dinner, meat loaf, escalloped potatoes, gelatin, vegetable salad, buttered beets, raisin or bread, angel's delight, coffee.

For work for her class on Tuesday and for a well planned dinner, Miss Stillman selected, meat loaf, escalloped potatoes, buttered beets, gelatin, vegetable salad, Denver biscuits, and angel's delight.

FARMERS TRY OUT PEDIGREED BARLEY

NOTES OF FARMERS IN STOCKBRIDGE VICINITY

Stockbridge—Thomas Delanty, Stockman, has purchased the Ervin Bovee farm of 60 acres for $10,000. He intends to use the farm for pasturing stock which he purchases.

Jacob Hertel has sold his cheese factory to the Winchago Cheese Corporation and is now employed to run it for them.

Frank Gerhartz bought the Gerhartz Brothers farm on a mile south of the village on Wednesday. The farm is valued at $37,500 including personal property. It is one of the best in this section and has been operated by Frank and his brother, Joseph, since the retirement of their father, John Gerhartz. The farm contains 140 acres.

Joseph Gerhartz has bought the Alvin Bovee farm west of the village, containing 100 acres for $20,000.

The farmers in this section are busy sawing wood and building fences.

EXPORT OF HOLLAND CHEESE ON DECLINE

BY BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Washington—Exports of butter from the Netherlands in February were slightly below last year's level, figures totaling 5,017,540 pounds compared with 5,570,400 pounds, the American Commercial Attache at The Hague reports to the Department of Commerce. The bulk of these exports went to Germany, 4,393,768.

Exports of cheese from the Netherlands rose, however, from 11,197,624 pounds during February, 1927, to 14,483,204 pounds during February, 1928. The principal countries of destination were Germany 5,953,034 pounds; Great Britain 2,402,014 pounds; Belgium 2,175,940 pounds; France 1,733,521 pounds; Spain 498,240 pounds; the United States 405,540 pounds; Cuba 231,483 pounds; while in addition numerous other countries absorbed smaller quantities of cheese. Netherlands cheese is now being exported to practically all countries of the world.

Here And There Among The Farmers--

BY W. F. WINSEY
BY W. F. WINSEY

Little Chicago—The South Kaukauna Cheese Factory is now getting 7,500 pounds of milk daily from forty-two patrons. This amount is scarcely up the spring average of former years. The reason that the cows are not at the high mark for this time of year is that on some farms they have cleaned their supply of alfalfa and red clover hay and are now working at timothy. In some cases the supply of silage is getting low also. To supplement home grown feed some of the farmers are buying hay and grain. The feed problem will be solved, however, as soon as the pastures are fit for use and the milk deliveries will jump from the present figures to 10,000 pounds daily.

Kaukauna—According to Charles Grode, a director of the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' Federation, the sale of $500,000 worth of stock started two weeks ago is "going over big." Already $200,044 worth of stock has been placed and the sale of the second $100,000 was opened up April 23. The money raised and to be raised will be used by the federation to pay cheese producers at the time deliveries are made to the federation. Heretofore, payments were held up after deliveries or until the federation sold the cheese.

At a recent session the Harrison Star Grange initiated a class of ten applicants. This increase gives the grange a membership of 150. Beside being a place of business, the hall of the Harrison Star Grange is very popular as a community center. At this hall a community school has been organized which happens to be a school house, young, middle aged and old collect for instruction, amusement and recreation.

Three hundred fifty people attended the fund raising party given in the hall by the Sunny Corners Grange Friday evening, April 20. Dancing and cards were the principal forms of amusement. Mrs. Herman Kruger was awarded the prize for wearing the costume most appropriate to the occasion. The men's prize awarded for the same reason was won and carried off by Peter Van Danden.

Theodore Van Vreede, route 2, Kaukauna, has 8 acres new sweet clover seedling that looks good at this time. He also has 10 acres of new red clover seedling which shows considerable vigor last week. If both fields survive the spring weather, he will use the sweet clover for pasture and the red clover for hay. In addition to the sweet clover he will pasture 7 acres of wild grass and make hay of another 12 acre field of red clover. He intends to sow 8 acres of timothy and 8 acres of oats, and to plant 7 acres of corn.

The largest calf club ever organized in Outagamie county came into existence in the Sunny Corners Grange hall a short time ago, route 2, Kaukauna, a short time ago. The club will hold its next meeting in the school building, May 1. Joseph Wevers is the local leader and John Kavanaugh is his assistant. The officers of the club are, Lawrence Verhagen, president, Andrew Weyers, and Richard Scouten, vice president, and James Kavanaugh, secretary and treasurer. Other members are Nicholas Kavanaugh, John Kavanaugh, Charles Vanrossen, Lloyd Verhagen, Louis Wickland, Henry Welland, Ray Farrel, Elmer Newhouse, Lawrence McHugh, Gordon McHugh, Edward West, George Young. Each member of the club has selected his calf, has his equipment, and is on the job.

William Herman, a Bay Settlement farmer, is building a new barn on a concrete foundation, 30 by 60 feet. A part of the structure is designed for stables and the balance for hay and grain.

John Jacobs, a Bay Settlement farmer, is building a barn 30 by 70 feet, hip roof, with modernized stables in a concrete basement.

William Van Lieshout, Bay Settlement, has finished the building of one of the best machine sheds in his section of the country. It is not built in the usual way but with a brace, beam frame and stands on a concrete foundation.

ADVANCING PRICES OF WHEAT REVEALS FIRM CONDITION OF MARKET

Heavy Decrease of Soft Winter Wheat Reported in Ohio Valley

The sharp advance which has carried wheat prices to the highest point since September reflects the decidedly firmer situation which has developed in the wheat market during the past month, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics U. S. Department of Agriculture. Soft winter wheat is selling at the highest price since February 1926 while other classes are higher than at any other time since near the opening of the season. The unusually poor condition of winter wheat this spring in the United States as shown by the April crop report, together with less favorable reports from several European countries, contributed materially to the advance. A closer adjustment of the available supply of bread grains to the prospective requirements than seemed probable earlier in the season was also a strengthening factor.

With the exception of the two years 1917 and 1925, the condition of winter wheat on April 1 this year was the lowest on record. While the condition in the Plains States, which grow the bulk of the hard winter wheat, was about the average, the condition of the crop in the Ohio Valley States, where most of the soft winter wheat is grown, was extremely low with indications of heavy abandonment. Recent low temperatures with some snow have retarded spring wheat seeding in the Northwest but conditions for seeding are considered generally satisfactory with the season a week or ten days earlier than last year. Farmers in that area, however, have expressed an intention to reduce the spring wheat acreage about 14 per cent this season. A reduction of nearly 8 per cent in hard spring wheat in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana was intended, according to reports.

Domestic wheat stocks have been disposed of more rapidly than last year. He is now building a hip roof barn over a concrete basement, the latter to be used as stables. The stables will be furnished with steel stallions, steel pens, individual drinking cups, and a little carrier. He expects to finish the barn before May. Its dimensions are 28 feet by 85 feet.

Martin Kuipers, Bay Settlement has sold his old barn and is building a new one of the hip roof, steel roof type, 30 feet by 100 feet, with a high, modernly equipped basement.

John Jacobs, a Bay Settlement farmer, is building a barn 30 by 70 feet, hip roof, with modernized stables in a concrete basement.

William Van Lieshout, Bay Settlement, has finished the building of one of the best machine sheds in his section of the country. It is not built in the usual way but with a brace, beam frame and stands on a concrete foundation.

season. Supplies at present appear to be about 7,000,000 bushels greater than a year ago, notwithstanding the supply at the beginning of the season, excluding merchant mill stocks and in transit, was nearly 50,000,000 bushels larger than last year. Canadian wheat stocks were officially estimated April 1 at 22,000,000 bushels, or about 45,000,000 bushels more than last season, making the total North American supply around 52,000,000 bushels greater than a year ago. These larger supplies are nearly offset by a decrease of about 45,000,000 bushels in the amount available in Argentina and Australia. April 1, last season, however, Russia contributed about 50,000,000 bushels to the export surplus. Offerings from that country this season to date have amounted to only about 5,000,000 bushels with very little more in prospect so that the total supply of wheat now available in the principal exporting countries appears smaller than a year ago.

While wheat harvests in the principal importing countries were more abundant than in 1926 the unfavorable weather conditions during the harvesting period damaged a large proportion of the crop and materially reduced the effective supply of grain suitable for milling purposes. The short crops of feed grains in Europe and the relatively high prices of these grains have resulted in a material increase in the quantities of bread wheat. Some of this he will apply to his corn land and to the fields to succeed to alfalfa. Beside these two kinds of fertilizer, Mr. Van Lanen will

Larks

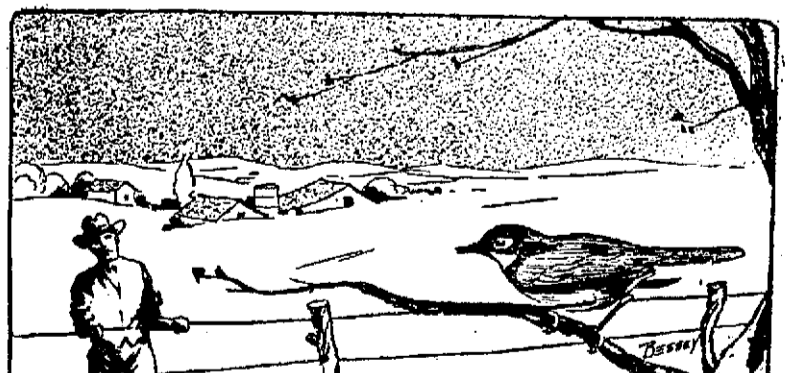

A British child of humble birth has a rare possession which the wealthiest American might envy, for America has neither Skylarks nor Nightingales. Numbers of Skylarks, Nightingales and English Robins have been brought to North America, but do not fit into the setting. The songsters vanish here in the fierce competition with native birds. A Crested Lark is pictured above.

There are a hundred species of Larks, but the best known one is the Skylark. This little soloist nests humbly amid rough grass or in a wheat field.

The Skylark is born in a cluster of grass among the clouds, but he soars to the sky's blue heights with a beautiful song.

The song of the Nightingale has thrilled poets of all ages. Not unlike a soberly clad, slim Robin, this bird winters in Africa, but comes north for its cradle. It makes a modest little nest in low shrubs and bushes, and when urged by the full ecstasy of song, it stands its ground and sings in our face as we halt a yard from it.

MAKE KAUKAUNA
MORE BEAUTIFUL,
CIVIC CLUB AIM

Organization Considers Ways to Take Advantage of City's Natural Beauties

Kaukauna—Suggestions for improving the appearance of the city advancement association Wednesday evening in the council chambers of the municipal building. A resolution adopted showed the organization to be in favor of garbage collection system in the city.

C. E. Raught, President Ben Prugh and Peter Renn offered members of the advancement club valuable flower bulbs and seeds if the members were willing to devote time enough to cultivate them.

It was urged that something be done to beautify the north side canal bank and the other eyesores in the city, particularly the north approach to the power canal bridge. President Prugh told the organization that a corollary of shrubbery and plants had been purchased by the government and would be here in a few days. Most of this was to be used at the locks and Mr. Prugh said he thought some of it would be used on the ground separating the canal from the river.

L. F. Nelson, president of the board of education, reported that the board had taken steps towards landscaping the school grounds and this would include the land between Oak-st and the river bank recently built by American Legion. He told the club that the Konrapoot creek bridge was the prettiest in the city and that the approaches to the bridge should be taken care to increase its beauty.

Edward Haas said the American Legion planned to finish the river wall as soon as the water was low enough to permit work on it.

Alderman E. R. Landreman of the third ward said he believed the individual property owners in the city could do a great deal toward enhancing the beauty of the city by fixing up their own property. A general cleanup in the city was urged. He said so many people had an idea that alleys were rubbish dumps that the street commissioner and his crew are kept busy cleaning the alleys on the south side.

REWARD STUDENTS FOR PROFICIENCY IN WORK

Kaukauna—A large number of students of Kaukauna High school were awarded special merits for having a grade of 90 or more in all subjects during the second six weeks period of the school year which ended the first of last week. Twenty-seven students received the award. Freshmen led with ten honor members while sophomore and junior classes each have six. Special merits were awarded to these seniors: Lloyd Deane, Lucille Haass and Michael Weber; juniors, Melvin Albert, Edna Esler, Irene Landreman, Anna Maes, Gordon Nicholson and Marjory Thiering; sophomores, Alice Balgie, Evelyn Gerharz, Elizabeth Lenert, Gladys Heimke, Frances Rastall and Catherine Rodell; freshmen, Quadine Beebe, Marcella Helne, Lorraine Hooftman, Bernadette Hooyman, Joseph Kern, Margaret Kline, Herman Maes, Corinne Mayer, Rosella Otte and Alta Fahl.

Eighteen others had an average of 90 in all subjects. They were: Seniors, Mildred Hegge, Alice Higenberg, Harold Renn, Mary Walker; juniors, Dorothy Goldin, Peter Hanson, Genevieve Melchior, Le Roy Seifert; sophomores, Roland Beyer, Leona Frank, Wilbur Haass, Sam Miller, Ruth Frischen, Edna Schomisch; freshmen, Josephine Peters, Katherine Conlon, John Martins and Carolyn Smith.

GIVE TENDERFOOT PINS TO NINE GIRL SCOUTS

Kaukauna—Tenderfoot Girl Scouts pins were presented to nine girls of the Kaukauna troop No. 1 at the investiture ceremonies at Park school Tuesday evening. Girls who received them were Mildred Nelson, senior patrol leader; Marion Klumb, Charlotte May, Margaret Weirauch and Veronica Weber, patrol leaders; Irene Landreman, senior Betsey Ashe, Helen Schwendeman and Elaine Frank, assistant patrol leaders. There now are thirty three members in the troop. It is believed that another troop will be organized within a very short time. Money for the pins was donated by the Kaukauna Women's club.

The girls are planning on getting their uniforms which are to be of a gray-green color. Miss Carol Walker of the high school faculty is captain of the troop.

ROTARIANS SELECT CONFERENCE DELEGATES

Kaukauna—Delegates to the national and district convention of Rotarians were elected at a meeting of the Kaukauna Rotary club Wednesday noon in the Legion building. Dr. C. D. Boyd, president of the local club, was elected delegate to the international convention at Minneapolis, June 15 and 16, while W. P. Hugman and Ben Prugh were chosen delegates to the tenth district convention at Marquette, Minnesota on May 14 and 15. Joseph McCarty presented a description of his recent trip to Florida and Cuba.

THREE TEAMS TIED FOR BOWLING LEAD

Businessmen's Teams Will Roll Extra Games to Determine Championship

Kaukauna—Three teams are tied for first place in the Kaukauna Business Men's Bowling league as a result of postponed games rolled Tuesday evening. Andrew's Oils, Kalupa's Bakers and the Electricians each won 26 and lost 16 games. The tie will be rolled off soon.

On Tuesday evening the Electricians won 2 to 1 from Van's Dairy in one match and in another the Dairy men took three straight from the American Legion. The Bankers defeated Meloch three straight. The latter still has a postponed match with the Kaukauna Lumber Co. and if it wins three straight games of this match will finish in seventh place in the league with the Lumbermen in the cellar.

W. Jacobson shot 553 for high series score and E. Van Dyck with 565. A 220 count by F. Olm was good for high single game.

LEGION AUXILIARY
PLANS POPPY SALE

Little Chute Woman Will Talk Over Matter at Meeting May 8

Little Chute—The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion auxiliary will be held Tuesday evening, May 8 at Legion hall. Initiation of new members will take place and arrangements will be completed for a poppy sale which will be held on May 25. An open card party for all women of the village will be held after the business meeting. An admission of 25 cents will be charged for the card party. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. George Hermson and Mrs. Peter Hermson.

Members of the Comrade club of the Little Chute high school held a meeting at the high school Tuesday evening. After the business meeting games were played. The next meeting will be held Friday evening, May 4. The committee appointed in charge consists of Misses Clotilda Hammen, Agnes Wyndoom, Anna Van Hoof and Marie Schommer.

A son was born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hermes.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Van Susteren of Delmore were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Susteren.

Miss Olive Van Susteren returned Wednesday to Madison after a several days visit at her home here.

J. T. Shipley of Oshkosh was a business caller here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGee of Milwaukee are visiting relatives here.

Miss Irene Van Susteren of Oshkosh spent Monday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanSusteren.

TAKES 24 HOURS TO
FREE WEDGED BARGE

Kaukauna—A barge, belonging to the Fox River Navigation Co. of this city, wedged in the draw bridge at Wrightstown late Tuesday afternoon, was not freed until about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and then only after assistance was secured from another tug and a pile driver.

The tug Jane and a barge of coal consigned to the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. at Appleton, was caught in the swift current at the bridge as the two were going upstream. The barge was forced between the two piers of the bridge and it was finally released with the help of the tug tug, George D. Ryan, and a pile driver working at Wrightstown.

The barge contained the first shipment of coal for the Appleton power company this spring.

OPEN FURNITURE STORE

Kaukauna—Hundreds of persons attended the opening of the modern and new furniture store on Wisconsin-ave Thursday. The building is two stories high and of brick construction. It is owned and operated by Fargo, Inc. of this city. It occupies the site of the original Fargo furniture store.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS
Kaukauna—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Parmenter of Green Bay were business callers in this city Wednesday. Mrs. Ethel Under spent the early part of the work with relatives at Oshkosh.

NEW, SIMPLE HOME-
BEAUTIFYING METHOD
FOR HANDS AND FACE

Famous Italian Skin Specialist's Secret May Be Used Now By Every Woman

It is no longer necessary to undergo complicated, tedious "treatments" in order to have a fair, smooth, velvety soft skin, thanks to Dr. Campana, internationally known skin specialist, the inventor of Campana's Italian Balm. Applied regularly once a day to the hands, face, neck, arms and shoulders (requiring three minutes a day at the most) this wonderful balm will produce a skin which will permit you to be always at your best. If your skin is inclined to be coarse, dry, rough, red, if it chaps easily, sunburns, windburns, or if you cannot avoid the use of hard water and soap—get a 2-ounce trial bottle of Italian Balm for 35c, enough to last several weeks. You will notice a decided change in two days. For sale at drug or department stores.—ADV.

The foundation, formed "to make out those ethical humanitarian and spiritual ideals which create understanding between religions, races, nations and classes," plans continuation of world unity conferences held in 1924 and 1925.

MONKEY BUSINESS

Los Angeles—Monkey business turned out to be a little more than a monkey in a pet shop. Three men released a cage full of monkeys, and the fun was on. The animals climbed on the stock shelves and started throwing packages of baby food, dog biscuits and what not at the men. When the blaze had been extinguished it was found that monkeys had started it. They had chewed the insulation from exposed electric wires and shorted the line. It may have been a waste to rest of your life.

WALTONIANS OUTLINE NATIONAL PROGRAM AT OMAHA CONFERENCES

Expect to Start Active Campaign in All States Against River Pollution

Omaha, Neb.—The election of Doctor Henry Baldwin Ward, professor of zoology at university of Illinois and one of the outstanding authorities on pollution of waterways, as president of the Izaak Walton League of America here Saturday is taken to mean, by students of conservation, that the major efforts of the league for the coming year will be directed toward the elimination of stream pollution.

Doctor Ward is associate editor of Outdoor America and for several years has had charge of the pollution campaign conducted by the Walton League. He has been prominent in virtually all phases of conservation work, especially from the scientific angle.

The convention at Omaha was considered one of the most successful the league has ever had and was attended by hundreds of delegates from all parts of the United States.

The convention went on record as endorsing in full the program of the league in regard to setting aside a fifteen thousand mile international recreational area to consist of the Superior forest in Minnesota and the Queticoen forest in Ontario.

The league also recommended passage of state laws to oblige the treatment and disposal of industrial and domestic sewage; urged the preservation of the Cumberland falls in Kentucky in its natural state as opposed to a movement to exploit it for water power.

Recommended that Isle Royal, Mich., in Lake Superior be made a national park; appointed a national committee to assemble competent data on drainage in its relation to wild life resources; urged upon congress the immediate necessity of the purchase of lands necessary to perpetuate the Cheyenne bottoms in Kansas as a game reserve and duck breeding grounds; respectfully requested the federal prohibition department to instruct its agents to observe all regulations in the disposal of mash and alcoholic liquor which may be injurious to fish and plant life in streams; recommended the establishment of national forest reserves along the Missouri and Arkansas rivers as part of the Mississippi valley flood control program.

The standardization of hunting and fishing laws in those states whose common boundary is a lake, stream or forest; opposed the propagation or stocking of carp; endorsed the teaching of conservation in the public schools of the United States; condemned the selling of black bass in certain eastern states.

Chicago was selected as the convention city for 1929.

This Prescription For Kidneys

No Drugs—Just Roots and Herbs

Ten years ago Dr. Carey said, "When backache comes get after your kidneys—and don't waste any time."

"Right at the start go to your druggist and ask for Dr. Carey's Prescription No. 777; take it as directed until backache ceases and your eyes clear and bright. Thousands of unobtrusive people have kidney ailments and never know it until too late. Highly colored urine, getting up in the night, and puffy eyes tell the story.

If you even suspect—start today with Dr. Carey's Prescription No. 777. It will drive the poisons from your kidneys.

Schlitz Bros. Co. 2 Drug Stores dispenses lots of it. It will help you as it has a host of others. If it should not, if you aren't glad in one week's time that you bought it, money gladly returned. adv.

How To Play Bridge

By Milton C. Work

Yesterday's problem: Contract, No Trump; South Declarer, North Dummy; the initial lead by West and play by East are shown. How should Declarer operate his twenty-six cards?

When the Six of Clubs is led, Declarer by using the rule of eleven and subtracting six from eleven will note that there are only five Clubs higher than the card led not in the hand of the leader. Consequently East has no Club higher than the Six and Declarer can win the trick by playing the Nine from the Dummy, or with the eight in Closed Hand. As it does not make the slightest difference which hand leads to trick 2, Declarer naturally would play the Five from Dummy and, when East refuses to follow suit, will know that West opened a six-card suit.

Declarer can count two Club tricks, two Diamond tricks, two Heart tricks and three Spade tricks—game; but of course he wants more if possible.

There is nothing on which he can discard his Clubs, so he must lose two Club tricks and his best scheme is to lose them at once because doing so will establish his second Club trick and force East to make three more discards which may prove embarrassing. Declarer is not in the least hurry about leading his Spades. If he can get four Spade tricks now, he always can do so; and the information obtained from East's discards probably will be of great value to him. To lead Hearts or Diamonds now merely would mean setting up the long cards in those suits for East. Consequently to trick 2 Declarer should lead the Four of Clubs from Closed Hand. He presumes that West will win this trick with the Queen, and is quite willing that West should continue with the Ace and then another Club, which will establish two long Clubs in West's hand. This Club establishment will be harmless, however, as Declarer will not let West get another lead; he makes his King of Clubs and make up other cards because of the discards East is forced to make.

If West, winning trick 2 with the Queen of Clubs, should not continue Clubs but should lead some other suit, that would be perfectly satisfactory to Declarer as she can win the trick in the Closed Hand, kill a valuable adverse card and obtain needed information concerning the suit question. In that event, Declarer would lead a third round of Clubs to trick 4.

WINDMILL BUILT ON AVIATION PRINCIPLE

Army Engineers Find Lowly Mill Can Do Hard Work if Properly Harnessed

Washington—(AP)—Aeronautics, having borrowed the windmill from the farm to adapt it to the needs of a new art, is ready to pay the debt by returning the implement, scientifically refined, to the farm for the operation of lighting plants.

The old fashioned windmill has been used for generations, chiefly to operate pumps but for 150 years prior to the World War little progress had been made toward a scientific understanding of its principles. Aviation development during the war, however, brought the aerodynamic method of analysis to the problem, and within the last few years windmills have been made useful for driving radioelectric generators, centrifugal gasoline pumps and similar accessories of the airplane.

The new analysis of the windmill was begun in the Army aeronautics laboratories at Dayton, under the supervision of E. N. Fales, seeking a type best suited to radio-electric-generator drive, working in collaboration with H. R. Stuart, who handled the generator development in the wartime aircraft radio program. As a result of their researches, outlined before the American Society of Mechanical Engineers by Mr. Fales, he said it has been possible to devise a propeller-type, high speed windmill for non-aircraft use which operate the generator of a farm lightning plant.

"Due to its improved lightness, efficiency, and cheapness, and to its higher rotative speed," he said, "competition with gasoline farm lighting plants is now possible."

Fifteen or 30, he added, are in use to light beacons on airways between Cheyenne and Salt Lake City. They differ from the old fashioned American or "Wind Rose" and Dutch types in their blades, which are one to four in number, of streamline cross-section, like those of an airplane propeller. The speed of revolution he placed at six to 10 times that of the "Wind Rose" type wheel of equal diameter in equal wind velocity.

AVIATOR OF FUTURE MUST KNOW WEATHER

Scientists Claim Airmen Should Make Use of Hostile Wind Currents

New York—(AP)—The aviator must take a tip from the sailor and be content to cooperate with the weather, in the opinion of Dr. J. E. Woodman, professor of geology at New York University. Dr. Woodman is directing a course in aeronautical meteorology.

He scientist believes the aviator of the future will tack his way through the sky as does the seaman through the waves making servants of hostile winds and air currents.

"Aviation, being a young science, is rather apt to think it can conquer the weather," says Professor Woodman. "We had some examples of this spirit of defiance last year in the fliers who fought the Atlantic gales and lost."

"The sailor knows better. Centuries of experience have taught him that he must take what comes and make the best of it. He cannot tame the winds, but he can and does use them.

"The aviator will do likewise when he is given an engine with such low rate of fuel consumption that he does not have to worry about his gasoline supply. Of course the weather will always be his worst enemy, but he will learn to work with it."

Professor Woodman believes a knowledge of the air and its vagaries will be an essential part of the future flier's equipment.

"For safe flying," he points out, "a pilot should be able to understand and forecast atmospheric conditions through his ability to read weather maps, use barometers and thermometers, feel the nature of the atmosphere through which he is flying and tell from the cloud formations the nature of the disturbance forming them. He can tell then whether it is expedient and possible to go under, over, around or through the disturbances which he knows he will meet."

"In other words, the aviator of the future will be something of a meteorologist, able to interpret weather conditions as they arise. Flying will thus become more scientific and therefore safer, for the aviator can gauge the chances he is taking."

BAD COINS BOTHER OFFICIALS
Bent coins in chocolate slot machines are now added to the worries of the officials of the government railways in Australia. School children of Northcote recently protested that they were being cheated out of their pennies, which they put into the machines, and for which they received no chocolate. The railway commission investigated and found that bent coins, pieces of tin and bits of cardboard inserted in the machines caused them to stop up and not deliver the sweets. The commission apologized to the pupils.
